A new start

1 Look at the picture. Then discuss the question in pairs or small groups.

The picture was taken at a college 'Societies Fair'.
What do you think is happening?

2 Read the email quickly. Then answer the questions.

- 1 Where do you think Mahmoud is and what is he doing there?
- 2 What words in the email helped you to decide? Make a list.
- 3 Who do you think Mahmoud is writing to?

3 Read the email again. Then answer the questions.

- 1 Has Mahmoud had any problems in his new situation?

- 2 What surprised him about the language at first?

- 3 Why is this better now?

- 4 What has he been doing so far?

- 5 Why has he joined the Palestine Society?

4 Read the notice. Then complete the tasks below.

FRESHERS'* WEEK ACTIVITIES

Clubs and societies are more than just an optional extra – they're a vital part of college life. They're a great way to meet like-minded people and expand your interests or participate more fully in a field you already know. So come along to the Clubs and Societies Fair in the Milton Building this Wednesday. Up to a hundred societies will be on show, from sports and outdoor activities to volunteer organisations and cultural or political groups. You're sure to find something to suit you. See you there!

* freshers = new students at a university or college

1 Find words or phrases in the notice that have these meanings. (They are in the same order as in the text.)

- 1 not compulsory _____
- 2 with similar attitudes _____
- 3 take part (in) _____
- 4 area of interest _____
- 5 able to be seen _____

2 Use the words and phrases in Part 1 to complete the sentences below.

- 1 There are lots of good paintings _____ at the museum this week.
- 2 I don't know much about biology. It's not really my _____.
- 3 This part of the form is _____. You don't have to fill it in.
- 4 Luckily, I live in a shared house with _____ people.
- 5 Unfortunately, his English isn't good enough to _____ in academic discussions.

5 Work in pairs or small groups. Discuss which of these societies you might be interested in joining, and why.

- ▶ the Chess Club
- ▶ the Film Society
- ▶ the Poetry Society
- ▶ the Mountain-climbing Club
- ▶ the Green Party (environmental organisation)

I'd like to join the Poetry Society because I've always loved poetry.

I'm more interested in the environment, so I might join the Green Party.

- 1 Look at the picture and quotation. Then discuss the questions below in pairs or small groups.

'Life begins at the end of your comfort zone.'

- 1 What do you think the phrase 'comfort zone' might mean?
- 2 Why do you think people are often advised to move outside their comfort zones?

- 2 Read the first paragraph of the text and see how close your ideas were to the writer's definition of 'comfort zone'.

Stepping outside the comfort zone

Your comfort zone is, as the name suggests, the area where you feel comfortable. We all have one, whether we know it or not: it's the set of routines and known abilities that make us feel safe because we're confident that we can manage and are unlikely to be challenged by anything unexpected or worrying. Obviously, staying inside your comfort zone has many benefits, especially at times when 5 you're feeling under stress.

On the other hand, we're often told in 'self-help' books that it's a good idea to do things that are outside our comfort zones. In fact, many studies have shown that an important factor in helping people feel positive about themselves is the feeling that they are developing and making progress in their lives. You won't reach your full potential if you only do what you know you are able to do. We all want to 10 improve ourselves, for example by learning something new, becoming more creative or getting fit.

Unfortunately, people often get stuck in their comfort zones and don't feel able to try different things. There are various possible reasons for this. They may be afraid of failing or unsure how to begin. Many people think 'This is the way I am and I'll never change', using this as an excuse for not trying something new. Whatever the reason may be, it's sometimes necessary to force yourself to do something you'd 15 rather not do. Once you've made the effort, though, the door to new experiences will be open and you'll probably wonder why you thought it was a problem.

3 Read the rest of the text. Then complete the tasks below.

- 1 Replace the underlined parts of the sentences with words or phrases from the text.
(The sentences are in the same order as the words in the text.)

- 1 I only need one more card to make a complete group. _____
- 2 We often get bored with the same everyday things we do regularly. _____
- 3 I know a lot about the subject, so I'm quite sure that I'll succeed. _____
- 4 I'm not sure why she feels tired, but I think stress may be a part of the reason. _____
- 5 She isn't a great singer yet, but she has great possibilities for the future. _____
- 6 He's very good at making artistic things. Apart from writing poetry and songs, he paints wonderful pictures. _____
- 7 With its wheels in the soft ground, the car was completely unable to move. _____
- 8 I'm sure he isn't really ill. I think it's just an untrue reason for not working hard. _____

- 2 Match the pronouns (highlighted in the text) with the nouns or noun phrases that they refer to.

Pronoun	Refers to ...
1 one (line 1)	a doing something new
2 they (line 8)	b the idea that you can't change yourself
3 this (line 12)	c getting stuck
4 this (line 13)	d a comfort zone
5 it (line 16)	e people

- 3 Complete the sentences with phrases from the text (3 words maximum).

- 1 Staying in your comfort zone is a way of avoiding _____ events.
- 2 People often prefer to stay in their comfort zones, particularly if they are
_____.
- 3 _____ often recommend leaving your comfort zone.
- 4 Knowing that you are developing helps you feel _____ yourself.
- 5 Sometimes people don't do something different because they don't know
_____.
- 6 You may have to _____ to do something new, but you won't be sorry.

4 Discuss this question in pairs.

What kind of activities are in your own comfort zone, and what kind are definitely outside it?

I'm quite comfortable talking to friends, but talking to strangers is outside my comfort zone.

I'm the same, especially speaking in public – that's a long way outside my comfort zone.

1 Look at the two groups of examples. Then complete the grammar rules.

Examples

People often get stuck in their comfort zones.

Clubs and societies are a vital part of college life.

It seems as if everyone is speaking a different language.

Complete the grammar rules

- 1 We use the present _____ tense to talk about regular or repeated actions, especially with 'frequency adverbs' like _____.
- 2 We also use this tense for general truths that don't change, and for some state verbs that are not actions, for example _____ or like.

Examples

We all want to feel we are making progress in our lives.

Mahmoud's English is getting better quickly.

Freshers are gathering in the hall right now.

Please be quiet. I'm thinking.

Many people think they can't change their lives.

Complete the grammar rules

- 3 We use the present _____ tense to describe actions that are in progress at or around the time of speaking, or to talk about continuous change that isn't finished yet.
- 4 Some state verbs, for example _____, can be used in both tenses (_____ and _____) but with a different meaning, according to whether or not the verb is an action.

✿ Reminder

Many verbs (sometimes called 'stative' verbs) can't usually be used in a continuous tense because they describe states, not actions. These include:

like, love, hate, prefer, etc.

remember

recognise want suppose understand seem agree

think (= have an opinion)

know

mean

have (= own)

believe realise

look (= seem, appear)

Notice that the last three (in red) can be used in continuous tenses when they have a different meaning from the one shown in brackets.

We have three bedrooms in our new house.

Sorry, you can't speak to him now. He's having a shower.

He's looking in the mirror and he looks very smart.

I think this bike is cool. I'm really thinking about buying one.

2 Complete the sentences with the verbs in the box.

realise hope recognise seem believe suppose

- 1 I _____ this is the right answer, but I'm not really sure.
- 2 We _____ that this problem will be solved very soon.
- 3 Those people _____ to be arguing, but I can't hear very clearly.
- 4 Not many people _____ how good he is at painting.
- 5 Have we met before? I _____ your face.
- 6 He says he's ill, but I'm not sure if I _____ him.

3 Circle the correct option to complete the sentences.

- 1 I'm sorry, but I'm not agreeing / don't agree with what you're saying.
- 2 What happens / is happening outside?
- 3 I'm not enjoying / don't enjoy parties normally, but I enjoy / am enjoying this one.
- 4 She might be able to see you, but she talks / is talking to a customer and it sometimes takes / is taking a long time.
- 5 He works / is working in the afternoons, but today he takes / is taking his son to the doctor.
- 6 That man looks / is looking rather strange.
- 7 Everyone looks / is looking out of the window.
- 8 What do you think / are you thinking the reason for her success is?
- 9 You're very quiet. What do you think / are you thinking about?
- 10 He has / is having a shower because he has / is having an important appointment.

1 Look at the two examples. Then answer the questions below.

Examples

I've also joined two other clubs.

I'm also a member of two other clubs.

- 1 Are the meanings of the two sentences different or more or less the same?
- 2 Does the first sentence (in the present perfect tense) tell us more about the past or the present?

2 Complete the present meanings of what these people are saying.

- 1  No thanks. I've already eaten. Thank you for the offer, but I'm not _____.
- 2  They've arrived at last. We can start. They're _____ now, so we don't need to _____ any more.
- 3  We've already met. We _____ each other.
- 4  Have you heard of that man? Do _____ who he is?
- 5  I haven't studied this before. I _____ about this subject.

3 Look at the examples. Then answer the questions below.

Examples

I've joined the Palestine Society. (present perfect simple)

I've participated in three events so far.

I've been studying English for five years. (present perfect continuous)

She's under stress because she's been studying so much.

Which tense talks about:

- 1 recent past experience important at the time of speaking? _____
- 2 general past experience ('indefinite time': the experience itself is what matters)? _____
- 3 actions that began in the past and have continued up to present? _____
- 4 unfinished actions that have been in progress throughout the period? _____

4 Complete the sentences with the correct tense of the verbs in brackets: present perfect simple or continuous.

- 1 You should go to bed. You've _____ on the computer for over two hours. (play)
- 2 How many times has he _____ to his family this month? (write)
- 3 He's _____ with friends for too long. He needs to find a house of his own. (stay)

Foundation courses with ICSR

Not quite ready for university?

Some students feel that starting a university course is something they don't want to do immediately after they've left school. Perhaps they think they'd have a better chance of being accepted after further study, or that they'd get more out of university study once they've extended what they know. Or maybe they want to study abroad, but aren't confident about their language ability.

If this sounds like you, one of our Foundation Courses could well be the answer. To find out more, visit our website www.icsr.org.

- 1 What is a foundation course?
- 2 What kind of students are foundation courses good for?

2 Listen to a student talking about her future. Then answer the questions.

- 1 What is the student's main interest? _____
- 2 What is she planning to do after June this year? _____
- 3 What does she want to do next year? _____

3 Listen again and complete the notes.

Name of course: (1) _____

Length of course: (2) _____

Wants this to be her future (3) _____

Interested in environment since she was (4) _____

Main school subjects: (5) _____, geography, (6) _____

Member of (7) _____ since starting secondary school (president for last (8) _____)

Future plan:

1 Final exams in (9) _____

2 Finish college course

3 Apply for (10) _____ course at university

4 Work in field of climate change (especially effect on (11) _____)

4 Complete the application form. Use your notes from Activities 2 and 3, and what you learnt in Periods 3 and 4.

Under pressure

- 1 Read the introduction to a magazine article. What time management tips do you think the article might contain?

Do you sometimes feel that you're wasting a lot of your time and not getting enough done? Don't worry – you're not alone. Most of us fail to manage our time effectively. There are lots of books about time management on the market, but you don't need to waste time (and money) reading them. Here are some tried and tested tips for getting things done.

- 2 Read the main article quickly. Then choose the best title A–E for each tip.

- A Look after yourself B First things first
C Just do it! D One step at a time
E Keep going

TIP 1:

It's so easy to make excuses and find ways to avoid the thing you know you should be doing. Experts advise us to break this habit by becoming aware of our own excuses. The 'right time' to do something never arrives: the best time to do something is usually now. Once you've got started, you'll probably find that it wasn't as hard as you thought.

TIME MANAGEMENT

TIP 2:

It's important to make yourself a 'to do' list or exam revision timetable, but remember that listing things isn't the same as doing them (see Tip 1!). Once you've worked out what needs to be done, decide which tasks have the highest priority and which can be left till later.

TIP 5:

You can't always make your brain work 'on demand'. Don't spend too long on one task, and learn to recognise when you're slowing down. Divide large tasks into smaller parts that are easier to manage, and reward yourself for completing them by doing something fun.

TIP 4:

Even if you're under stress, there's no point making yourself ill – that will just make the pressure worse. Make sure you remember to eat regularly and healthily, and, even though it may be hard, try to get enough sleep.

TIP 3:

It's inevitable that things don't always go as well as you expect them to. If you find that you've 'hit a wall', there are two things you can do. First, persevere: with a bit more effort, you may find that you break through the wall. But if that doesn't work, try having a (short) break. Do something completely different, and come back to the task.

3 Replace the underlined parts of the sentences below with words or phrases from the text. (The part of the text where you can find the words / phrases is given in brackets.)

- 1 (Introduction) With all the new products available to buy nowadays, it's very hard to decide which to buy.

- 2 (Tip 1) She's starting to notice the impact of things that she says and does on other people.

- 3 (Tip 2) Studying before an exam can be very stressful, but it's necessary. When asked to say what they want in the future, most people say health and happiness are the most important.

- 4 (Tip 3) If you're finding a job difficult, it's important that you don't give up. _____
- 5 (Tip 4) There's no purpose in trying to open the door. It's locked. _____
- 6 (Tip 5) Young babies expect to be given food whenever they want it. Some parents give their children something good if they do well in exams. _____

4 Look at what five students say about exam revision. Then decide which tip from the text is the best for each student.

- | | | |
|---|---|----------|
| 1 | There's so much to do that it gets confusing and I don't know where to start. | Tip ____ |
| 2 | I sometimes reach a point where I get bored and information just stops. | Tip ____ |
| 3 | I get worried and my head starts hurting. | Tip ____ |
| 4 | I always seem to find other things to do and time just runs out. | Tip ____ |
| 5 | I sometimes think it's all too hard and want to give up. | Tip ____ |

5 Discuss the questions below in pairs or small groups.

- 1 Do you ever have problems managing your time? Why? / Why not?
- 2 Which (if any) of the tips in the article would you find useful?

1 Discuss the question below in pairs or small groups.

When young people in Australia were asked what they worried most about, the seven answers below were the most important. Which do you think were higher, and which lower?

Fitting in with peers*	Getting into debt	Finding a job	Passing exams
Relationships	The environment	Health

* = being accepted by others in your social group

 = borrowing money that you have to pay back

2 Read the news story below quickly to find out the results. Then enter them on the chart.

What young Australians worry most about

3 Read the story more carefully. Then complete the tasks on page 17.

THE DAILY NEWS

Wednesday 27 Feb 20—

The results of a new poll show that financial problems have taken over from the environment as the main concerns for young people. The survey asked over 12,000 people aged between 14 and 18 what they were most worried about. The clear 'winner' was 'finding a job', while the environment was only the seventh greatest worry. This compares with similar polls in the last fifteen years, when environmental worries came first.

One of the poll's organisers commented that the results demonstrated a clear change in attitude. 'It's not just that getting a job is the main worry,' he said. 'Also included in the top six worries were getting into debt (6th) and passing exams (4th=). I'm convinced that there's a connection. Because of changes in the job market, there is more and more pressure on young people nowadays to pass exams and go on to university in the hope of finding a good job. Rising university fees make it inevitable that many students graduate from university with huge debts.'

Other concerns mentioned by large numbers of young people also tended to be personal rather than social, including worries about relationships (2nd), health (3rd) and 'fitting in with peers' (4th=).

Annette Coleman, director of the Green Earth organisation, said yesterday that she was 'disappointed, but not surprised' at the fall in the number of young people concerned about the environment. 'It's not that environmental concerns are less urgent than before – quite the opposite in fact. It's just that after decades of publicity on topics like climate change, so little has actually changed. A lot of people get the feeling that there's nothing we can do about it, and young people in particular tend to be impatient. Of course, the other thing is that in times of economic difficulty, people are more likely to focus on worries that are more immediate and have an impact on their daily lives.'

- 1 Match the words from the text with their meanings. (The words are in the same order as in the text.)

WORDS FROM THE TEXT	MEANINGS
1 convinced	a around the present time
2 nowadays	b connected with yourself
3 fees	c not wanting to wait
4 inevitable	d sad because of an unexpected result
5 personal	e money you pay for a service
6 disappointed	f impossible to avoid
7 impatient	g sure or certain that something is true

- 2 Use the words in Part 1 to complete the sentences below.

- 1 Don't be so _____, I'll be finished soon.
- 2 We all make mistakes sometimes, so it's _____ that you will too.
- 3 There are some problems with this idea. I'm not really _____ it will work.
- 4 He was _____ because he thought he would get better results than he did.
- 5 She didn't go to a private school because her parents couldn't afford the _____.
- 6 The form asks for a lot of _____ details like age and nationality.
- 7 Students have more money worries _____ than they had in the past.

- 3 Choose the best summary of what Annette Coleman says.

- A I'm disappointed that so many people are more worried about themselves than the future of the planet. Young people today are too impatient. Problems like climate change take a long time to solve, so it's not surprising that nothing seems to happen.
- B Many people feel that there is no point worrying about the environment because we can't change anything. It's understandable that young people in a difficult financial situation are more worried about their personal problems.
- C Environmental problems like climate change are even more important nowadays. We need more publicity to persuade young people to do as much as they can to help solve these problems.

4 Discuss the questions in pairs or small groups.

- 1 How do you think the results might be different if young Palestinians answered a poll like this?
- 2 Do you and your friends have any concerns that are not included in the results in Activity 2?

I think young Palestinians are more worried about ... than ...

One concern for young Palestinians is the problem of ...

- 5 He would _____ (be) a famous film star. It's his dream.
- 6 If I had the chance, I would _____ (study) in another country.

3 Some verbs change their meaning when they are followed by the infinitive or -ing forms. Look at the examples. Then answer the question below.

Examples

He was getting tired, so he stopped working.

We were lost, so we stopped to ask the way.

Remember to eat regularly and healthily.*

I remember feeling stressed when I was doing school exams.

Which verb and verb form do we use to talk about the following?

- 1 stopping one action in order to do another _____
- 2 simply stopping the action you are doing _____
- 3 actions that happened in the past _____
- 4 actions we have to do or should do _____

4 Complete the sentences with the infinitive or -ing form of the verbs in brackets.

- 1 The first thing I remember _____ is the sound of my mother singing. (hear)
- 2 You shouldn't stop _____ just because it's a bit difficult. (try)
- 3 I must remember _____ this letter while I'm in town. (post)

- 5 I remember _____ surprised when I first heard the news. (feel)
- 6 While walking along the street, I saw him stop _____ in a shop window. (look)

5 Work in pairs. Write sentences in answer to the questions below.

- 1 A friend is getting stressed about exam revision. What would you advise him/her to do?
- 2 What hobby do you like doing, and which new hobby would you like to do in the future?
- 3 What do you have to remember to do in the next few days?
- 4 Is there anything in your life that you would like to stop doing?
- 5 What should you remember to do before going on a long journey?
- 6 What should you stop doing if you want to be fit?

1 Discuss the question in pairs or small groups.

Many universities and colleges ask for a 'personal statement' together with every application for a course. What do you think these should (and shouldn't) include?

I guess they'll probably want you to write about things that you've done in your life.

I don't think they'll want to hear your personal opinions on things.

2 Look at the advice in the table. Then put the words and phrases in the box in the correct place in the 'DO' column.

plan your statement in particular check outside education

3 Listen to a man giving advice about writing personal statements. Complete the 'DON'T' column in the table in Activity 2.

4 Read the first paragraphs of a student's personal statement. Then discuss the questions below in pairs or small groups.

- 1 What is wrong with the statement?
How many examples can you find?
- 2 Is there anything right about it?

PERSONAL STATEMENT

I am applying for a course in theatre studies because I'm sure this is where my future is. For me, the theatre is like a window that looks into life. This is why I've been interested in it since I was a young girl. As Shakespeare wrote: 'All the world's a stage'. I must say, though, that my first experience of being on stage was a disaster. I was in a school play when I was about seven years old and I forgot my lines and started crying! But I've been in lots of plays since then, and I'm sure I've got a lot better. It couldn't be much worse, could it?

As you can see from my application form, I got good grades in my Year 11 exams, especially in English and geography. I recently returned from a geography trip to Greece, and I learnt a lot from it. It was quite hard, but I am the kind of person who doesn't give up.

Period 6 / Writing

1 Read the suggested plan for a personal statement. Then add the paragraph headings A–C in the correct places.

- A What have you done? B Why are you applying? C Why are you suitable for the course?

PERSONAL STATEMENT PLAN

Paragraph 1: _____

Give your reasons for choosing the course.
Say why the subject interests you.
Explain how your interest developed.
Mention your ambitions for the future.

Paragraph 2: _____

Mention subjects you are studying (connected with the course).
Describe any extra reading you've done around the subject.
Give examples of activities (in and outside school) that show your interest.
(These could include visits, talks, work experience, volunteering.)

Paragraph 3: _____

Give evidence that you are the right person.
Mention skills that you have that will help you during the course.
(These can include non-academic skills like teamwork or time management.)
Say how your studies and extra activities developed these skills.

- 2 Think about what you would include in each paragraph and write some notes. Then compare your notes with a partner.

Notes for personal statement

Paragraph 1:

Paragraph 2:

Paragraph 3:

- 3 Look at the suggestions for opening and closing sentences. Then discuss the questions below in pairs or small groups.

Possible opening sentences

This is my personal statement in connection with the course.

There are several reasons why I am applying for a course in ...

If you are wondering why I am applying for this course, I will explain.

Possible closing sentences

I am looking forward to the experience of university / college life and the challenges of studying at this level.

I hope the information I have given above is enough for you to accept me on the course.

Studying on this course would be very exciting, so I will be disappointed if I am not accepted.

- 1 Which opening and closing sentence do you think is best?
 - 2 What is wrong with the others?
- 4 Write a first draft of your personal statement, using the opening and closing sentences in Activity 3, your notes and any other information from this Period and Period 5.

In this Unit you have learnt about:

- ▶ managing your time and dealing with stress
- ▶ time management and exam revision
- ▶ infinitive and -ing forms (revision)
- ▶ verbs that change meaning when followed by infinitive or -ing forms
- ▶ noun phrases made with on + noun
- ▶ writing personal statements

- 1 Look at the pictures on the web page below. Then discuss in pairs what you think might be happening.

funny stories

FunnyStories.com

If you're looking for funny stories, this is the site for you, full of true, real-life stories posted by readers. You can search under these headings

- Coincidences (stories about strange, unexpected events and connections)
- Misunderstandings (stories about people getting the wrong idea)
- Unintended meanings (stories about saying things that aren't quite what you mean)

To give you a quick taste, here are three of our recent favourites.

A One day, I noticed that some bananas, which I had bought about a week before, were going brown. 'Let's make some banana cakes,' I said to my six-year-old daughter, Fatima. It took quite a long time, but it kept Fatima busy and we had fun making them. When they were done, we tried one and it was actually delicious, so I suggested taking one to Mr Aziz, the old man who lives next door. When Mr Aziz opened the door, before I could say a word, Fatima told him: 'We had some old bananas that were going bad, so instead of throwing them away we made them into a cake for you. I hope you like it.'

B A couple of years ago, I was talking to an old school friend that I'd kept in touch with when she mentioned another person called Jan, who had been in the same class as us. Neither of us had heard from her, or even thought about her, for over ten years. I didn't give the conversation another thought until three days later, when I was working in London for two days. As I was travelling to the office, I saw a woman on the train. Our eyes met and we seemed to recognise each other. 'Excuse me,' she said, 'but are you Susan?' It was, of course, Jan. As it turned out, she was only visiting London for a few days and was about to return to Italy, where she had lived for over five years.

C About three or four times a year, a company that I do some work for organises a day of meetings for those of us that work from home. They put us up in a hotel and it's a good chance for colleagues who don't meet that often to catch up with each other. The last time this happened, I arrived at the hotel quite late and went straight to bed. The next morning, I walked into the breakfast room and saw my old colleague Dan, a short man with a bald head, standing with his back to me. 'Good morning, Dan,' I said, patting him on the head in a friendly way. Unfortunately, the man who turned to face me wasn't Dan at all, but a complete stranger. To make things worse, he was a rather formal man who didn't see the funny side of the situation. 'I'm sorry to say that you may have made an error,' he said.

6 Discuss the questions in pairs or small groups.

Which story do you think is the funniest? Which do you think is the strangest?

1 Discuss the questions in pairs or small groups.

- 1 Has anything like the following ever happened to you or someone you know?
Tell your partner(s) about it.
 - ▶ meeting someone you know in an unexpected place
 - ▶ thinking about someone and getting a message from the same person soon afterwards
 - ▶ talking to a stranger and finding that you share a birthday, a past experience or a friend
- 2 Which of these opinions is closest to your own?

I think strange coincidences must mean something. It's hard to explain why they happen so often.

I know coincidences often happen and they seem strange, but they're just part of normal life.

2 Read the text. Then complete the tasks on page 27.

We often hear people say, 'It's a small world, isn't it?' It's usually when they've just experienced one of those strange coincidences that seem to happen in nearly everyone's lives. You know the kind of thing: you're on holiday in another country and you run into a person you know from home, even though neither of you knew that the other was going there too.

- 5 People often think experiences like this are evidence of something mysterious happening, some kind of hidden plan outside our knowledge. The scientific explanation is less exciting, and perhaps that's why some people are reluctant to accept it. Coincidences are events that unexpectedly happen at the same time for no clear reason, or finding an unexpected connection between seemingly random things or people. A very common example of the latter is talking to a complete stranger and finding that you have the same birthday. What are the chances of that happening?

Actually, the chances are better than you might think, and there's a mathematical way to prove it. It has been calculated that the number of people you need to have a 50% chance of two of them sharing a birthday is 23. And when there are 48 people in a room, the probability goes up to 95%. To put it another way, if there are only 50 people reading these words (and I hope there are more!), one of them will almost certainly have the same birthday as me.

- 20 The other part of the scientific explanation for coincidences is simply that there are so many events in people's lives. Just think of the number of people that you have had any kind of connection with during your life. There are probably over 10,000, and the older you get, the more there will be. If you are the kind of person who talks to strangers, you will definitely come across coincidences. Basically, when you think about how complex our lives are, especially nowadays with the Internet, the only surprising thing is that coincidences don't happen more often.

- 1 Replace the underlined parts of the sentences with words or phrases from the text. (The sentences are in the same order as the words and phrases in the text.)

1 I was surprised to meet him by chance so far away from his home town.

2 She has a lot of things that she knows about this subject because she's studied it for years.

3 Most people are not willing to answer questions about their age.

4 Of the two pieces of advice I've just given, the last one I mentioned is more important.

5 He didn't expect to find his friend's name by chance in the newspaper.

- 2 Choose the best answer to the questions. Circle A, B or C.

1 According to the writer what do people mean when they say 'It's a small world.'?

- A We can communicate easily with people who are far away.
- B Strange events happen more often than you might expect.
- C People's lives are more connected than they used to be.

2 Why does the writer think some people don't want to believe scientific explanations for strange coincidences?

- A They prefer a more exciting explanation.
- B They don't trust what scientists say.
- C They misunderstand scientific ideas.

3 If there are 30 people in a room, what is the probability that two of them have the same birthday?

- A 55% or more
- B 80% or more
- C 50% or less

4 What is the writer's conclusion about coincidences?

- A They probably have some meaning.
- B They don't happen as often as we think.
- C They are not really surprising at all.

5 What does the phrase the latter (line 9) refer to?

- A finding unexpected connections
- B events that happen unexpectedly
- C seemingly random things

- 3 Do an experiment to test the writer's idea about shared birthdays.

- ▶ How many people are there in your class?
- ▶ Were any two (or more) people born on the same day?

1 Look at the examples. Then answer the questions below.

Examples

A I arrived at the hotel quite late and went straight to bed.

B I was talking to an old school friend when she mentioned another person called Jan.

C He fell while he was climbing the wall.

- 1 Which example shows two completed actions in the past? _____
- 2 Which examples show one action that happened while another action was in progress? _____
- 3 Which tense do we use for a) completed actions? _____
b) uncompleted actions? _____

2 Complete the sentences with the correct tense of the verbs in brackets: past simple or past continuous.

- 1 I _____ him to come back later because I _____. (ask / work)
- 2 He _____ the right answer, but the teacher _____ him.
(give / not hear)
- 3 Her mother _____ her why she _____. (ask / cry)
- 4 It _____ while I _____ to work. (rain / walk)
- 5 She _____ a taxi to the station and _____ just in time. (take / arrive)
- 6 While he _____ around the room, he _____ someone come in.
(look / hear)

3 Work in pairs. Tell your partner about what you did after school yesterday. Include details, for example:

- ▶ where you went
- ▶ what the weather was like
- ▶ what time you got home
- ▶ who was there when you arrived and what they were doing
- ▶ anyone who wasn't there, and why not
- ▶ what you did in the evening

4 Look at the examples. Then complete the rules.

Examples

Coincidences are strange, unexpected connections.

The two men are co-founders of the university.

Misunderstandings happen when people get the wrong idea.

Error has the same meaning as mistake.

Complete the rules

- 1 We use the prefix _____ to add the meaning of wrong(ly) or bad(ly).
- 2 We use the prefix _____ to add the meaning of with, together or at the same time.

5 Complete the sentences using the words in the box with either co- or mis- as prefixes.

worker	use	behave	operation	pilot	lead
		heard	writer

- 1 She only gets angry when students _____ in class.
- 2 Please keep phone conversations quiet to avoid disturbing your _____s.
- 3 Students sometimes _____ words that look the same as a word in their own language but have a different meaning.
- 4 Both their names are on the front of the book because they are the _____s.
- 5 I thought he said he was from Australia, but I think I _____ because he's actually Austrian.
- 6 _____ often gets better results than everyone working alone to solve a problem.
- 7 He flew the plane alone, without a _____.
- 8 Information in adverts isn't usually untrue, but it can _____ people and give them the wrong idea.

Period 4 / Language and vocabulary study

1 Compare the examples. Then answer the question below.

Examples

- A Some guests left when Samir arrived.
 B Some guests were leaving when Samir arrived.

Which sentence suggests that ...

- 1 Samir was perhaps late, so there were some people he didn't meet? _____
- 2 at the door Samir met some people leaving the party? _____
- 3 some people were perhaps waiting for Samir to arrive before leaving or perhaps left because they didn't want to talk to him? _____

2 Match the sentence beginnings 1–8 with their endings a–h.

1 I felt much better	a while the sun was shining.
2 She found it hard to think clearly	b when I'd finished reading it.
3 As soon as I saw the photo	c until she'd explained it twice.
4 I took the book back to the library	d that something strange was happening.
5 When I told them about my mistake	e when the loud music was playing.
6 They didn't really understand	f after I'd taken the medicine.
7 They decided to go for a walk	g I recognised who it was.
8 When I arrived I knew immediately	h they all laughed.

3 Rewrite the sentences as single sentences, changing the tense of one verb and the order of the events if necessary. Use the word or phrase in brackets to join the two events.

- 1 I left the key inside the house. I got home in the evening and realised the problem. (when)

When I got home in the evening, I realised I had left the key inside the house.

- 2 The bell rang. Everyone stopped working and left the building. (as soon as)

- 3 He rang me. It was in the middle of watching my favourite TV programme. (while)

- 4 His colleagues came to collect him. He was in the middle of eating his breakfast. (when)

- 5 I spent a long time studying this subject. I passed the exam easily. (because)

4 Look at the way the three past tenses work together in the examples. Then answer the question below.

Examples

A One day I noticed that the bananas I had bought about a week before were going brown.

B I was talking to an old school friend that I 'd kept in touch with when she mentioned another person.

- Which verb in each sentence does the main job of telling the story, and which two verbs give background information? _____
- What is the tense of the main verb? _____
- Which parts of the timelines below relate to which verbs? Label them.

5 Complete the sentences with the correct tense of the verbs in brackets: past simple, past continuous or past perfect.

- While we _____, she _____ someone who had been in our class when we were at school. (talk / mention)
- He got wet during his walk because it _____ and he _____ to take an umbrella. (rain / forget)
- The day before, I _____ to phone him, so I gave him a quick call while I _____ my breakfast. (promised / have)
- When I went in, everyone _____, probably because someone _____ a joke. (laugh / just tell)
- I thought the dog _____ because it _____ someone outside, but there was nobody there. (bark / hear)

1 Look at the pictures. Then discuss the questions in pairs or small groups.

- 1 What is happening in each picture?
- 2 Who are the two people?
- 3 What is the connection between the pictures?

2 Listen to Samira explaining what happened in the situation in Activity 1. What was the coincidence?

3 Listen again and number the sentences to show the correct order of events in the story.

- _____ She went into the interview room.
- _____ The interview carried on as normal.
- _____ Samira picked it up and gave it back to him.
- _____ She felt embarrassed.
- _____ A man parked his car and opened the window.
- 1 _____ Samira walked to the interview.
- _____ He didn't say anything about what had happened before.
- _____ He was smiling.
- _____ She said something to the man.
- _____ He asked her the normal questions.
- _____ The man shook her hand and thanked her.
- _____ Perhaps she got the job, but she doesn't know yet.
- _____ She went for a coffee.
- _____ He dropped an empty sweet packet out of the car window.
- _____ She recognised the man immediately.

4 Write Samira's story. (To make the story clear, be careful to use the correct tenses and join the events with simple time words like when, while and as soon as.)

Samira was going for an interview. While she was walking to the building, she _____

As soon as she went in, she _____

At the end, _____

1 Look at the picture. Then discuss the questions.

- 1 What do you think has just happened?
- 2 Why do you think the two men are surprised?

2 Number the sentences in the correct order to make the story. (Look carefully at the underlined words and think about how they join the sentences together.)

- ☐ One day at breakfast, Martin got a watch out of his pocket.
- ☐ Martin then told us that he'd found the watch on the same beach.
- ☒ 1 Some time ago, I was working at a school in the North of England.
- ☐ To prove this, he pointed to his initials on the back and told us he'd lost it on a beach the year before.
- ☐ So I invited him to stay with my family one summer.
- ☐ I met another teacher there called Martin and we became good friends.
- ☐ We were all amazed when he said it used to be his.
- ☐ My brother Tom was staying there too.
- ☐ Tom saw it and asked if he could have a closer look.

3 Write your own story about a strange coincidence or a misunderstanding. (It can be a true story about something that happened to you or someone you know, or a made-up story.)

Before writing, think about these points:

- ▶ Who are the people in the story?
- ▶ What happened, where and when?
- ▶ How will you join the story together and what tenses will you use?

[illegible]

4 When you have finished, show your story to a partner and ask him/her to guess whether it's true or made-up.

In this Unit you have learnt about:

- ▶ telling personal stories
- ▶ using three past tenses together in narratives
- ▶ using prefixes (co- and mis-)
- ▶ using time phrases and pronouns to make stories cohesive
- ▶ writing personal stories or anecdotes

Reading

1 Read the text about routines. Choose the best title for each paragraph.
(There is one more title than you need.)

- A The negative side of routine paragraph ____
- B Odd habits paragraph ____
- C Regular lives paragraph ____
- D Manage your time paragraph ____
- E Routine and memory paragraph ____
- F Who is the book for? paragraph ____

From its title, you might expect this to be another one of those ‘self-help’ books about time management, but people who read this book hoping for advice on how to change their lives might be disappointed. For anyone interested in how people think and act, though, it will be an interesting and sometimes surprising read.

The first part, which looks at the working methods of successful creative people like writers and artists, does have some general tips. The one thing that most of them share, for example, is having a regular working routine and keeping to it. Some perhaps take this a bit too far. The composer Beethoven used to start each day with a cup of strong coffee made with exactly sixty coffee beans, which he counted out personally. And there are stranger examples than that.

Most of us, of course, don’t go that far but, as the author discusses later, we depend on routines. Research has shown that most people need some regular structure in their lives. Society in general also needs routines, because without them transport wouldn’t be on time, schools and offices wouldn’t work, and so on.

But there’s also evidence that routine can be bad for us, and that’s what the second part of the book looks at. Sometimes we need to break with our routines, because doing something new and different increases happiness. Obviously people can get bored if they do the same thing all the time, but there’s more to it than that. Routine also increases the feeling of time moving too quickly. When nothing new is happening, we simply don’t notice the weeks and months passing.

This, it seems, also partly explains why older people tend to forget things. They may think it’s a natural part of getting old, but it’s more likely that when the things we do have become fixed, we often don’t realise we’re doing them. So rather than forgetting what has happened, we actually didn’t notice in the first place.

2 Decide whether the statements are TRUE or FALSE.

- | | | | |
|---|--|------|-------|
| 1 | Some people might find the book’s title misleading. | TRUE | FALSE |
| 2 | The book has a lot of useful advice. | TRUE | FALSE |
| 3 | Time seems to pass faster when we’re doing the same thing every day. | TRUE | FALSE |
| 4 | Getting older is the main reason for forgetting things. | TRUE | FALSE |

3 What do these words, highlighted in the text, refer to?

- 1 them (line 5) _____
- 2 it (line 6) _____
- 3 which (line 7) _____
- 4 them (line 11) _____
- 5 They (line 17) _____

4 Answer the questions.

- 1 What advice is given in the first part of the book? _____
- 2 What benefit does breaking your routine bring? _____

The shrinking world

1 Discuss the questions in pairs or small groups.

- 1 The title of this Unit suggests that the world is getting smaller (shrinking). In what ways might this be true?
- 2 What is the picture saying about this idea?

2 Read the two texts quickly. Then answer the questions.

- 1 Which text gives evidence to show how young people communicate? _____
- 2 Which text is about personal feelings? _____
- 3 Which text includes a list of concerns? _____
- 4 Which text suggests that we shouldn't worry about young people's use of technology? _____

MODERN LIVING | COMMUNICATION

Communication today

TEXT A

- 1 ► As a parent, I'm becoming increasingly worried about the effect communications technology is having on young people. My fourteen-year-old son seems to spend hours every day texting or chatting online, or updating his social media page. He says he's going to do his homework, but an hour or two later still hasn't started it, and I can't help feeling that he's wasting so much time on this instead of doing useful things, or even just being with his friends and communicating with real people.
- 2 Is all this texting affecting young people's ability to use language properly? Is there a danger that they could become addicted to technology? What potential dangers are out there in the online world? I don't know enough about these new technologies to be able to answer questions like these.

TEXT B

- 1 ► Like it or not, today's young people are the connected generation. A recent study in the US found that nearly a quarter of teenagers use social media sites at least ten times a day and 75% own mobile phones. Texting is now the main form of communication for young people. The figures obviously vary between countries, but the one thing we can predict is that they will continue to rise.
- 2 Inevitably, this has led to panic among parents, teachers and other adults. But are these fears justified? Not according to Dr Amy Lehane, who has studied exactly how young people are using technology. 'If you look back,' she says, 'you find the same panic reaction from older people to the growth of the telephone or television. Often it comes from a fear of something they don't understand, but our research indicates that young people are quite capable of telling the difference between the online world and the real world, or between the types of language used for texts and job applications. They're also very aware of the possible negative effects of technology: they know, for example, that it's not a good idea to post a message like 'I'm having a party next Saturday' on a public site.'

3 Complete the definitions with words from the texts.

- 1 If you are _____ to something, you can't stop yourself from doing it. (Text A, paragraph 2)
- 2 A _____ problem isn't a problem yet, but might become one in the future. (Text A, paragraph 2)
- 3 If things _____, they are different in different situations. (Text B, paragraph 1)
- 4 If an action or idea is _____, it is the correct thing to do or believe. (Text B, paragraph 2)
- 5 A feeling of _____ happens when we stop thinking properly because we are frightened.
(Text B, paragraph 2)
- 6 _____ is what you feel when you are afraid. (Text B, paragraph 2)
- 7 If you are _____ of doing something, you have the necessary ability to do it. (Text B, paragraph 2)

4 Read the texts again. Then decide which of the two writers is most likely to have the opinions below.

- | | | |
|---|---|-------------------------|
| 1 | I feel as if changes are happening too fast for me. | The writer of Text ____ |
| 2 | We should learn to trust young people more. | The writer of Text ____ |
| 3 | There are reasons to be positive about the future. | The writer of Text ____ |
| 4 | Things were different when I was young. | The writer of Text ____ |

5 Discuss the question in pairs.

Why is it not a good idea to post a message like 'I'm having a party next Saturday' on a public site?
What might happen?

6 Do a poll of your class by answering the questions below.

- ▶ Which is the most popular method of communicating with friends?

- ▶ Which is the most popular social media site?

- ▶ How many hours a day does the average student spend on these sites or on exchanging messages with friends?

How similar are the results from your class to the results of the US study in Text B?

1 Read the article quickly. Then answer the question below.

Is the writer's idea of the effect of communications technology on society ...

- A mostly negative?
- B mostly positive?
- C about half and half?

It isn't hard to explain why parents, teachers and older people in general get so concerned about the negative effects of young people's use of communications technology. They may be motivated by a wish to protect their children from harm or to control them, but throughout history older generations have always tried to put limits on the behaviour of the young.

- ⁵ The only difference now is that the Internet is such a powerful force, and older people generally don't really understand this new world of social media and instant communication, so they're unable to control it. And the situation is changing so fast that the gap in their knowledge is widening all the time.

In a similar way, governments, even in democratic countries, like to put limits on people's behaviour. After all, it's a large part of what governments are about. They may have more technological knowledge
¹⁰ than the average parent, but the spread of social media sites and communications apps like Twitter and WhatsApp is making it harder and harder for them to control what their citizens are saying and doing.

Clearly, this isn't always a positive trend, but what we can say for sure is that new information and communications technologies are a force for social change and economic development, especially in poorer countries without a reliable traditional phone network. The World Bank has calculated that ¹⁵ in countries like this, a 10% increase in high-speed Internet connections leads to a 1.3% increase in economic growth. It is, they say, 'the single most powerful way to extend economic opportunities and services to millions of people, especially in remote areas'.

A recent headline on the BBC website asked: 'Could Ramallah become an Arab World technology hub?' The article went on to show how young Palestinians are starting small technology companies
²⁰ that could help the Palestinian economy to break free from the restrictions placed on it by the Israeli occupation. As one interviewee explains: 'This is what is good about technology: it breaks the borders. A person with a laptop can work in the worst situations; he can work from his home and interact with the global community, without a passport and despite the occupation. It is limitless.'

2 Match the words from the text with their meanings.

WORDS FROM THE TEXT	MEANINGS
1 motivated	a limits
2 citizens	b system of connections
3 trend	c dividing lines
4 network	d difficult to get to
5 hub	e caused or encouraged
6 restrictions	f people who live in a country
7 remote	g central point
8 borders	h movement, fashion or change

3 Use the words in Activity 2 to complete the sentences below.

- There are _____ on how many books you can borrow from the library.
- Most companies are _____ by the need to make a profit.
- A government's first duty is to protect its _____.
- During our train journey we crossed four international _____.
- There is a _____ towards smaller and smaller telephones.
- I think there's a problem with the phone _____ because I can't make any calls.
- The capital city is a _____ for road and rail travel to the rest of the country.
- He lives in a _____ house, far away from the nearest town.

4 Read the article again. Then decide whether the statements below are TRUE or FALSE according to the text. If there isn't enough information to decide, choose DOESN'T SAY.

- The reasons why adults try to control young people are always the same.
TRUE FALSE DOESN'T SAY
- In future, it is likely to be more difficult for older people to control young people's use of technology.
TRUE FALSE DOESN'T SAY
- Governments use technology to check their citizens' actions.
TRUE FALSE DOESN'T SAY
- New communications technology plays an important part in economic development.
TRUE FALSE DOESN'T SAY
- Palestine will probably become an important place for technological change.
TRUE FALSE DOESN'T SAY

5 Discuss the question in pairs or small groups.

What good or bad effects will new communications technology have on society in the future?

People won't spend as much time meeting and talking to each other.

People living in remote areas will be able to communicate and get information easily.

1 Look at the examples. Then complete the grammar rules.

Examples

Young Palestinians are starting small technology companies that could / might / may help the Palestinian economy.

We can't make any plans yet because he might / may not come.

The one thing we can predict is that the figures will continue to rise in future.

We won't be in time now. It's too late.

Complete the grammar rules

- 1 We use the modal verbs _____, _____ and _____ to say that something is possible.
- 2 When we make negative statements about possibility, we can't use _____.
- 3 We use _____ as a modal verb when we are certain about a future event.
- 4 (Reminder) The negative form of will is _____.

2 Complete the sentences with a modal verb of possibility and the infinitive form of a verb in the box.

get	find
not happen
catch	improve

- 1 If we run, we _____ still _____ the train. At least we can try.
- 2 Don't worry. I'm sure the economic situation _____ soon.
- 3 There's no point worrying about it. It _____.
- 4 Just try it. You _____ that it's easier than you thought. Who knows?
- 5 You obviously _____ the job if you don't apply for it.

3 Look at the examples showing ways of making statements about the future more or less certain. Then answer the questions below.

Examples

He has all the right qualifications, so he could / might / may well get the job.

I'm not sure yet, but I'll probably catch the 9.30 train.

The company probably won't accept her application since she doesn't have all the required qualifications.

- 1 What word do we add to make could, might or may more certain? _____
- 2 What word do we add to make will less certain? _____

4 Add the words or phrases in the box to the line in the correct order.

might / may not	probably won't	will probably may / might / could	may / might / could well

5 Change the sentences so they make sense by choosing the correct part of the sentence.

1 I can't be sure, but this idea will / will probably solve the problem.

I can't be sure, but this idea will probably solve the problem

2 We might / might well get there on time, but I don't think so.

3 She's better than most of the others, so she may well / may not win the prize.

4 I probably won't / I'll go shopping this afternoon. There are several things we need.

5 He's quite unpopular, so he could / probably won't win the election.

1 Look at the examples of how we use will. Then match them with their meanings 1–4.

Examples

A Researchers predict that the figures will continue to rise in future.

B The next flight to arrive will be the 732 from London.

C There's nothing on TV, so I think I'll go to bed.

D Don't worry. I'll help you solve the problem.

1 giving new information to the public about a future event (announcing) ____

2 confidently predicting or expecting that something is certain ____

3 making an offer ____

4 talking about something you've just decided ____

2 Complete the sentences with will (or 'll) and the verbs in the box. Then write 1, 2, 3 or 4 after each sentence to show which meaning from Activity 1 indicates.

find visit walk take help begin

1 Please take your seats. This evening's concert _____ in five minutes. ☐

2 It's no problem. If we miss the bus, we _____. ☐

3 The government has announced that the President _____ Russia next month. ☐

4 Those bags look heavy. I _____ you carry them if you like. ☐

5 I'm sure scientists _____ a solution to the problem of climate change. ☐

6 It's too late to post it, so I _____ it there myself tomorrow. ☐

3 Look at the examples of two more ways to talk about the future: the present continuous tense and going to (do). Then answer the questions.

Examples

I'm having a party next Saturday.

He says he's going to do his homework.

That wall doesn't look safe. It's going to fall over one day.

- 1 Which form do we use when we have some evidence to make us certain? _____
- 2 Which form do we use to talk about things that are arranged? _____
- 3 Which form do we use to talk about things that we intend or have decided to do (but are not necessarily completely arranged)? _____

4 Complete the sentences using going to or the present continuous tense with the verbs in brackets.

- 1 You'd better take an umbrella. The weather forecast says it _____. (rain)
- 2 Sorry I can't see you this afternoon. I _____ tennis with Ziad. (play)
- 3 If he gets to university, he _____ Literature. (study)
- 4 She _____ to Cairo next week. The plane ticket is already booked. (travel)
- 5 He's taken his shoes off. I think he _____ into the water. (jump)
- 6 She always says she _____ early, but she's always late. (arrive)

5 Discuss in pairs these questions about the future.

- 1 What are you going to do this evening / tomorrow / at the weekend?
(Think about things you've decided to do, but not arranged.)
- 2 What are you doing at the weekend / next week / next month?
(Think about things you've arranged, either on paper or by talking to another person.)
- 3 What do you think tomorrow's weather will be like?
(How sure are you? Do you have any evidence about what it is going to be like?)
- 4 What future developments will there be in the field of communications technology?
(How sure are you that these things will happen?)

I'm going to watch my favourite programme on TV tonight.

I'm meeting some friends at the weekend and we're going to the cinema.

Someone told me it's going to be sunny tomorrow.

1 Look at the advice about making a questionnaire (a list of questions for doing a poll or study). Then add the headings below in the correct places.

- A Plan the questionnaire
- B Think about the questions
- C Test your questionnaire
- D Think ahead

1 _____

- ▶ What do you want to achieve?
- ▶ How easy will it be to analyse the information you get?
- ▶ Who is your questionnaire aimed at?

2 _____

- ▶ How long will it be? (Shorter is better.)
- ▶ Are the questions in a sensible order?
(Moving from general to particular is best.)

3 _____

- ▶ Will they give you the information you want?
- ▶ Are they simple and clear?
- ▶ Can they be answered by everyone?

likely combination reasons tend majority conclusion habits connection

We asked fifty people how often they used supermarkets and why they chose particular shops. We also asked about their age group and occupation to see if there was any (1) _____ between these and their shopping (2) _____.

It seemed from the results that younger people used supermarkets less often than older people, and that they were less (3) _____ to choose a shop because of easy parking. The obvious (4) _____ from this is that older people use their cars more often for shopping because they (5) _____ to buy more items per visit.

A person's occupation had some effect on how often they used supermarkets: people who worked long hours tended to shop at supermarkets once per week (or less often). However, it did not appear to affect their (6) _____ for choosing shops.

It is perhaps not surprising that a large (7) _____ of people of all ages and occupations chose shops because of low prices. However, nearly half were more interested in good quality, while several people chose both price and quality, which is obviously a (8) _____ that nearly all of us would look for.

1 Work in small groups. Plan your own questionnaire.

Choose one of these topics:

- ▶ Use of communications technology and social media
- ▶ School subjects and study habits

Discuss these points:

- ▶ What information you want to find out
- ▶ What type of questions will give you the information you need

2 Write the questions for your questionnaire.

Make sure that the questions are clear and simple. Each student in the group should have their own copy of the same questionnaire. To help you, here are some examples of question types.

3 When you have finished writing your questionnaires, exchange them with other groups and answer the ones you receive.

4 Collect your questionnaires from everyone who has completed one and analyse the results.

- 1 What are the main trends?
- 2 What conclusions can you come to?

5 Write three or four sentences as a summary of your results.

In this Unit you have learnt about:

- ▶ communications technology
- ▶ modal verbs of probability (could / might / may and will)
- ▶ expressing different levels of certainty
- ▶ different uses of will as a modal verb or future form
- ▶ using going to and the present continuous tense for future events
- ▶ writing questionnaires

The world of work

1 Discuss the questions below in pairs or small groups.

These are the top ten 'dream jobs', according to a UK survey.

sports trainer or coach ☐ actor ☐ journalist ☐ working for a non-profit organisation ☐ musician or singer ☐ photographer ☐ writer ☐ artist ☐ pilot ☐ racing driver ☐

- 1 What does the phrase 'dream job' mean?
- 2 What order do you think the jobs came in?

2 Read the magazine article. Then complete the tasks on page 69.

MODERN LIVING | DREAM JOBS

A survey of 3,000 workers in the UK has revealed the top ten dream jobs. Being 'dream' jobs, a certain amount of fantasy is involved, but what is the reality behind the dream? We asked some professionals what doing these jobs was really like.

Airline pilot, James Hutchings: 'They didn't really make this the first choice, did they? I'm not sure my job is what people were thinking of. They probably wanted to be jet fighter pilots. The work isn't as exciting as people think. You don't see the world, just the insides of airports. There isn't much job security either. There are lots of ways you could lose your job. It suits me at the moment because I'm young and single, but I wouldn't want to be still doing it in ten years' time.'

a big star, you never know where the next job is going to come from.'

TV and theatre actor, Jane Nicholson: 'There's nothing I'd rather do. The feeling you get is like nothing else, and it outweighs the many negatives, like the pressure, the stage fright and the long periods without work. Unless you're Pianist and singer, Amina Kureishi: 'Almost anyone can become a musician, but the trick is to make a living from it. I mean, there are singers, there are good singers and there are successful singers, but they're three different things. For most of us it's a life of late nights, long hours practising and travelling from place to place, being paid just enough to put food on the table. The majority of professional musicians need other incomes, usually from teaching.'

Charity worker, Ben Harper: 'I can understand why this work comes so high in the list. It's the job satisfaction, isn't it? A lot of people probably feel they'd rather do something to help others than work for a company making money for someone else. But the thing is that for most charity workers, it's just an office job. Even non-profit organisations have to be run like businesses these days. The people at the top are paid well, but those lower down are often volunteers.'

1 Choose the correct meaning for these words from the text. Circle A or B.

- | | |
|---------------------------|--|
| 1 revealed (line 1) | A repeated |
| | B shown |
| 2 fantasy (line 3) | A unreality |
| | B excellence |
| 3 job security (line 12) | A having a job that isn't dangerous |
| | B being sure that you won't lose your job |
| 4 outweighs (line 22) | A is heavier than |
| | B is more important than |
| 5 stage fright (line 25) | A feeling nervous before appearing in public |
| | B gradually becoming more afraid |
| 6 make a living (line 32) | A feel more alive than before |
| | B earn enough money to survive |
| 7 charity (line 51) | A non-profit organisation |
| | B taking great care |

2 Decide whether the statements are TRUE or FALSE. Write the phrase or sentence from the text that helped you decide.

1 James is surprised that so many people want to be pilots.

TRUE FALSE

2 Jane feels that her job is special.

TRUE FALSE

3 If you are a good enough singer, you will probably succeed in the end.

TRUE FALSE

4 Many musicians are also full-time teachers.

TRUE FALSE

5 Some people who work for charities are not paid.

TRUE FALSE

3 Discuss the questions in pairs or small groups.

- Which of the ten jobs would you prefer to have? Why?
- If your own dream job is not included in the list, what is it?
- How do you think the list of dream jobs would be different if you asked people in Palestine the same question?

1 Discuss the questions in pairs or small groups.

- 1 How important is it for schools to prepare students for working life?
- 2 How early in their school years should students begin thinking about their future career?
- 3 At what age do students begin choosing subjects in Palestine?
- 4 When choosing your subjects for future study, which is more important: subjects you are interested in or those that could be useful in getting a job in the future?

2 Read the two texts quickly. Then complete these sentences.

- 1 Text _____ is probably a news story.
- 2 Text _____ is probably a newspaper or magazine article.
- 3 Both texts are about the connection between _____ and _____.

TEXT A

EDUCATION TODAY

CASE STUDY: MILTON SECONDARY SCHOOL

- 1 Most schools claim to prepare students for the world of work, but Milton Secondary School takes the claim very seriously. Before they even join the school, future pupils get an informal interview at their primary school to discuss their hopes and preferences for the future.
- 2 The emphasis on employment continues during the first two years at Milton, and then in the third year all pupils spend a day doing work experience at a local company. Two years later, this becomes a whole week spent with a company, usually arranged by the students themselves.
- 3 Throughout their secondary education, students have professional careers advice, which costs the school over £30,000 a year. Head teacher Harriet Downs believes it's worth it, though: 'Teachers aren't trained as careers advisers,' she says, 'so we bring in professional help. It's part of a co-ordinated programme that aims to make students aware of the employment options available, and how to make the most of them. It's too late to start talking about work in their final year.'

TEXT B

THE DAILY NEWS

Wednesday 27 Feb 20—

The Education Minister talks job prospects

- 1 In a speech yesterday, the Education Minister advised students to avoid arts subjects and choose science or maths if they want to improve their job prospects. In the past, he said, arts subjects like languages and history were chosen by students who didn't have a clear idea of what they wanted to do in the future. He explained that this was because of a feeling that they involved skills that were useful for many different jobs, but he questioned whether this was
- 2 still true: 'Nowadays, we know differently, don't we? The best subjects for keeping your options open are ones like science, technology and engineering.'
- 3 It quickly became clear that the Minister's words were controversial, with teachers and university heads reacting strongly to his advice. 'Of course science and technology are important,' said one, 'but it would be completely wrong to neglect the arts. They provide important skills and an understanding of the world and people in general. Also, the economy depends as much on creativity as on technical knowledge.'

3 Find words in the text that have these meanings.

- 1 having or getting a job (Text A, paragraph 2) _____
- 2 from beginning to end of (Text A, paragraph 3) _____
- 3 giving good value (Text A, paragraph 3) _____
- 4 different parts working together (Text A, paragraph 3) _____
- 5 possibilities for the future (Text B, paragraph 1) _____
- 6 causing a lot of argument (Text B, paragraph 2) _____
- 7 ignore, not pay attention to (Text B, paragraph 2) _____

4 Use the words in Activity 3 to complete the sentences below.

- 1 It's good to have an interesting hobby, but don't _____ your studies.
- 2 Learning is something that should continue _____ your life.
- 3 He has lots of different ideas about what to do, but no _____ plan.
- 4 A lot of students and teachers disagreed with the school's _____ decision to have a longer working day.
- 5 It's not _____ spending money on a new computer if the old one still works.
- 6 The Minister said the _____ for future economic recovery were good.
- 7 Graduates are more likely than non-graduates to find _____ in the future.

5 Look at the phrases made with the word job and use them to replace the underlined parts of the sentences.

- 1 Your possibility of getting a job in future will be better if you choose technical subjects.

- 2 The problem is that I have no guarantee that my work will continue. _____
- 3 He refused to do it because it wasn't part of his list of duties involved in his job. _____
- 4 It's important to know how to write a good letter or form to try and get a job. _____
- 5 For her, feeling happy about what she does is more important than a high salary. _____
- 6 Because of economic problems, there aren't as many chances to get work. _____

6 Read the texts again. Then answer the questions.

- 1 What are future students encouraged to do before they begin studying at Milton School?
- 2 Why aren't teachers at Milton School expected to advise students about work?
- 3 Why did students in the past without a clear idea of their future career tend to choose arts subjects?
- 4 Why does the university head believe that arts and technical subjects are equally important?

- 1 Look at the examples of direct questions and reported or indirect questions. Then circle the correct words to complete the grammar rules.

Examples

Direct questions

'What is your job really like?'

'Have you enjoyed working for a charity?'

'What subjects are you studying?'

'Is this still true?'

Complete the grammar rules

- 1 In these direct questions, the subject comes before / after the verb.
- 2 The questions on the left ask for information / a yes or no answer.
- 3 The questions on the right ask for information / a yes or no answer.

Examples

Reported / Indirect questions

We asked a professional what his job was really like.

I asked him what subjects he was studying.

They asked him if / whether he had enjoyed working for a charity.

He questioned if / whether this was still true.

Complete the grammar rules

- 1 When reporting questions, the subject comes before / after the verb, as in normal sentences.
- 2 Changes like moving tenses into the past and changing pronouns are the same as / different from normal reported speech.
- 3 When reporting Wh- questions / Yes/No questions, we use either if or whether
- 4 We use / don't use question marks with reported questions.

2 Report the questions.

- 1 'Where is the nearest police station?'

He asked _____.

- 2 'Was that the best way to do the job?'

I asked her _____.

- 3 'How did you manage to do the work so quickly?'

They asked him _____.

- 4 'Who do you want to speak to?'

She asked me _____.

- 5 'Can you speak any foreign languages?'

He asked her _____.

- 6 'Do Palestinian students usually choose technical subjects?'

I asked _____.

3 Look at the examples. Then complete the grammar rules by adding subject or object.

Examples

Jamal phoned Ahmed.

'Who phoned Ahmed?' 'Jamal.'

'Who did Jamal phone?' 'Ahmed.'

The storm destroyed houses.

'What destroyed the houses?' 'The storm.'

'What did the storm destroy?' 'Houses.'

Complete the grammar rules

- 1 When who or what refers to the _____ of the question, we use the normal sentence order (subject + verb).
- 2 When who or what refers to the _____ of the question, we use the question order (do/did + subject + infinitive verb).

4 Read the situation. Then write a question for each answer.

The teacher asked Faisal a question, but the question confused him. That evening, he asked his father, who told him the answer.

- 1 Who _____? The teacher.
- 2 Who _____? Faisal.
- 3 What _____? The question.
- 4 Who _____ ask? His father.
- 5 Who _____ Faisal's father? Faisal.
- 6 Who _____? His father.

1 Compare the examples. Then answer the questions.

Examples

A Is it a long way to walk?

B Isn't it a long way to walk? (I'm not sure I can manage that.)

C Did you ask for his phone number?

D Didn't you ask for his phone number? (If not, how can we call him back?)

- 1 Which question suggests that the speaker has doubts? ____
- 2 Which question suggests that the speaker is annoyed? ____
- 3 What type of question (positive or negative) do we use to express feelings like anger and surprise? ____

2 Match the negative questions with their suggested meanings.

NEGATIVE QUESTIONS	SUGGESTED MEANINGS
1 Don't you know the answer?	a You've been doing it for two hours.
2 Didn't you enjoy the film?	b I think I recognise your face.
3 Haven't you finished yet?	c I thought you were good at maths.
4 Won't that cause problems?	d It's starting to annoy me.
5 Weren't you at the same school as me?	e I really liked it.
6 Can't you play it a bit quieter?	f It may not be as simple as you think.

3 Look at the examples of question tags. Then complete the rules.

Examples

*It's the job satisfaction, isn't it?

*I shouldn't really do this, should I?

You've made a mistake, haven't you?

*Nowadays, we know differently, don't we?

Complete the grammar rules

- When the main sentence is positive, the tag is usually _____; when the main sentence is negative, the tag is usually _____.
- When the main verb is be, an auxiliary verb (e.g. _____) or a _____ verb (e.g. should), we repeat this in the tag.
- With all other verbs, we use the auxiliary verb _____ in the tag.

4 Add question tags to the sentences.

- You aren't sure about it, _____?
- It can't be as easy as it looks, _____?
- You won't forget the number, _____?
- He's never usually late, _____?
- She lived in your town, _____?
- She doesn't know the answer, _____?
- The letter hasn't arrived yet, _____?
- You two went to the same university, _____?
- We're studying the same subjects, _____?
- They didn't answer the question, _____?

5 Look at the example. Then complete the sentences with a word and preposition from the boxes.

Dear Sir / Madam,

I am writing to ask if it would be possible for me to do work experience with your company. ☐

I am a 16-year-old student at Milton Secondary School and I am trying to arrange a week of work experience at a local company for the week beginning Monday April 20th. ☐ ☐

My main subjects next year will be geography, biology and information technology, so it would be perfect if I could spend a week doing something connected with one of these subjects. ☐

However, I would be grateful for any experience you are able to offer. ☐

If you need any further information, please contact me at the above address or by email. ☐

I look forward to hearing from you.

Yours faithfully,

1 Read the extract from a job-finding website and answer the question.

Which two of the sentences below are a logical conclusion from the text?

- A You might have some success by sending general enquiry letters to companies. It certainly won't do any harm.
- B The best way to solve this problem is to look more carefully in different places: not just newspapers, but also magazines and the Internet.
- C What you need to do is expand your circle of contacts. Send emails to people you know and use social media websites, especially those specially designed for professional users.

2 Read the sentences. Then divide them into two groups: a personal email and a formal enquiry letter.

I'm leaving school at the end of June and I need to find some work.

Could you ask around and see if there's anything suitable?

I have good language and IT skills, which I hope would make me suitable for various jobs.

Basically, though, I don't mind what I do.

I am writing to enquire about possible vacancies with your company.

Thanks a lot.

I've attached my CV in case that would be useful.

If you need any further information, please contact me.

I am currently looking for employment as I am due to leave school at the end of June.

This is just a quick message to ask if you could do me a favour.

I enclose my CV and would be grateful if you could keep it on file in case of any future opportunities.

Thank you very much for your help.

I was just wondering if there were any vacancies at your place.

I'm good at languages and IT, so anything using those skills would be great.

3 Now write the sentences for each group in the right order.

Mr James Murray

4 Write a general enquiry letter to a local company with your own information, using the letters in this Period and Period 5 as models.

In this Unit you have learnt about:

- ▶ jobs and work
- ▶ phrases made with job + noun
- ▶ reported questions
- ▶ subject / object questions
- ▶ negative questions
- ▶ question tags (form and meaning / pronunciation)
- ▶ writing general enquiry letters

1 Discuss the questions in pairs or small groups.

- 1 What problems might you face when starting a new business?
- 2 Are there any particular problems a new business might have in Palestine?
- 3 In Palestine, why might an Internet-based company be easier to start than, for example, a company that makes things?

2 Read the article. Then complete the tasks on page 79.

BUSINESS START-UPS

GRAPHIC DESIGN

Information and Communications Technology businesses could be the best hope for the economic future of Palestine, according to experts inside and outside the country. A recent report said that the ICT sector makes up over 5% of the Palestinian economy.

- 5 Why ICT? For Mustafa Jawad, the 23-year-old head of an online graphic design company, the answer is simple: 'For an ICT start-up, all you need is a computer and a connection. You can distribute your final product by exporting it to the Internet cloud.' There are still problems, though. The main one is a lack of 3G networks in Palestine, because access to the necessary
- 10 wavebands is not available yet.

Mustafa was always good at art and languages, and when he finished school everyone advised him to study English at university. Instead, he taught himself how to programme and started making his own software programmes. His first attempt was a game, which was so popular with his fellow students that 15 he decided starting his own company might be a real possibility.

His big breakthrough came when he attended a 'start-up weekend' in Ramallah. He managed to get a small amount of financial support, which gave him the time to develop more ideas. Perhaps more importantly, he met other business people, both Palestinian and from other countries. He learnt 20 a lot about the practical side of running a business and about how to get his products noticed.

Mustafa is currently working on a programme that makes the teaching of chemistry in schools more fun. He has already had interest from within Palestine and from other countries in the Arab world. Like a lot of other

25 young Palestinian business people, he wants to do something positive to help his country, but he stresses that his company isn't a humanitarian operation. 'It's a business,' he says, 'and the aim is to get good returns on the investment.'

One way he believes he can help is to pass on what he's learnt to others even younger than he is. 'I learnt a lot from that start-up weekend. When I go to 30 the next one, I hope I'll learn more, but I'll also be able to advise others.'

| 5 at the moment _____ | 10 managing _____ |

2 Use the words in Part 1 to complete the sentences below.

- 1 After months of trying to find a solution, they finally made a _____.
- 2 A good transport system is needed to _____ products around the country.
- 3 He made a lot of mistakes because of his _____ of experience.
- 4 Several _____ organisations have sent medical supplies to the area.
- 5 The country's financial _____ has done better than other areas of the economy.
- 6 _____ explanations are easier to understand than written words.
- 7 ICT start-ups are _____ growing faster than any other kind of company.
- 8 The _____ on this kind of investment are quite low at the moment.
- 9 Don't forget that _____ your own company is hard work.
- 10 It was a good _____, but it didn't quite succeed.

3 Answer the questions.

- 1 Who says that ICT companies are important for the future of Palestine?

- 2 What is the biggest problem for ICT companies in Palestine?

- 3 How did Mustafa learn to make computer software?

- 4 What did Mustafa find most useful about the start-up weekend in Ramallah?

- 5 What are Mustafa's two aims in business?

_____ and _____

- 6 What does Mustafa hope to do at the next start-up weekend?

Take advice	2 _____
Look to the future	3 _____
Get financial support	4 _____
Do your research	5 _____
Have an idea	6 _____
Develop your product	7 _____

1 Add the explanations below to the table under the right heading.

- ▶ You can't stand still in business. You have to keep thinking ahead to what comes next.
- ▶ There's no point in having a great product if nobody knows about it.
- ▶ Think of something people would find really helpful and would pay money for.
- ▶ There's lots of help out there, from friends and family or on the Internet, so use it.
- ▶ Would people really welcome what you're offering? Are there possible competitors providing something similar? If so, how is your idea different?
- ▶ You'll probably need some money to get started, but make sure you don't end up owing too much or losing control of your company.
- ▶ Make the idea a reality. If it's a physical product, you'll need to find a way to have it made for you.

SEVEN STEPS TO STARTING YOUR OWN BUSINESS

- 1 Have an idea _____
- 2 Take advice _____
- 3 Do your research _____
- 4 Develop your product _____
- 5 Get financial support _____
- 6 Market the product _____
- 7 Look to the future _____

2 Read the article. Then complete the tasks on page 81.

MODERN LIVING | YOUNG BUSINESS PEOPLE

We asked three young business people about their experience of starting up in business. Here is what they said.

▶ Three years ago, when he was just fourteen, Pete Finn developed an app that was so popular that he sold it to a major IT company, giving him the money to spend on developing new ideas. His advice:

'I never had any training. I just jumped straight into things. After all, you don't want to spend a long time getting everything perfect and then find the market has disappeared. But my lack of experience meant that I made some expensive mistakes at first. In the end, someone warned me against putting all my profits into developing new ideas instead of keeping some back to pay tax. But before that I'd had some unpleasant moments.'

► Seventeen-year-old Anita Simons started out making jewellery for friends and now sells it to top fashion shops and direct to the public via her online company. She says:

'One of the most important things I've had to learn to do is decide the most effective way of spending money. You need to work out the financial figures and have them checked by someone who understands money. Luckily my parents are both in business themselves, so they advised me to spend more on marketing, less on product development, or whatever. Wherever it comes from, getting good advice is very important.'

► Hashem Ali is the nineteen-year-old owner of a company that makes online music videos. His top tips:

'I think initially the key thing is to understand the market. Work out who your potential customers are, who your competitors are, what they offer and how you could do it better. It's easy these days to get professional help with this kind of market research. After that, just be determined and don't give up if things get difficult (which they almost certainly will at some point). Starting and running a business is hard work. If you think it's only going to be a nine-to-five job, you should go and do something else.'

1 Answer the questions. Which person ...

1 had help from family members?

2 warns that success doesn't come easily?

3 learnt from his/her mistakes?

4 advises people not to wait too long?

5 talks about spending priorities?

2 What advice do all three people give? (It is one of the seven steps in the table.)

3 Look at the different uses of the word market and complete the definitions.

1 You need to do _____ to find out if people will buy your product.

2 _____ is a way of letting people know about your product.

3 People buy and sell national currencies on the _____.

4 Your _____ tells you how much of the market you have compared with your competitors.

5 The _____ of a product is how much you can sell it for.

6 A product described as _____ is a more expensive luxury item.

3 Discuss the questions in pairs or small groups.

1 What qualifications and personal qualities do you think are needed to be a successful business person?

2 Do you think you have the right character and attitudes to succeed in business?

Anyone can do it if they have a good idea, get good advice and have enough determination.

I've got ideas, but I don't know enough about financial matters.

1 Look at the pictures.

Then answer the questions.

- 1 Do you know who these people are?
- 2 What teams do they play for?
- 3 How much do you think they earn?
- 4 What kind of life do you think they have?

2 Discuss the question in pairs or small groups.

Do you think the salaries of top sports players are too high nowadays?

Think about:

- ▶ how much they earn
- ▶ what they have to do in their job
- ▶ how they behave
- ▶ how long their careers last
- ▶ how their salaries compare with other workers, like doctors or teachers

3 Read the article. Then complete the tasks on page 89.

Are today's young sports stars overpaid? It's an opinion you'll often hear repeated, especially in the world of football. The figures are astonishing. When the Welsh player Gareth Bale joined Real Madrid in 2013, his reported salary was around £250,000 a week or, if you prefer, £13 million a year. So every week he earns as much as the average Real supporter makes in ten years. This may be an extreme example, but there are a lot more footballers around the world earning almost as much.

It's a situation that makes some people very angry, but those who are infuriated by it often forget what players have to do to get to the top, and the risks involved. A new book by Wayne Barton tells the story of some of those who fell on the way up. These are young men who achieved the dream of playing for the famous club Manchester United, but only had short careers, often because of injuries. Take young Tony Gill, for example, who was on his way to becoming a regular first team player when he hurt his leg and was never able to recover, or the young forward Deiniol Graham, who broke his arm and never played professionally again.

The list of these tragedies goes on, but the story that stands out is that of Giuliano Maiorana. At the age of 19, he was playing for an amateur team in Cambridgeshire, England when he was noticed by one of Manchester United's many scouts, who was searching the lower levels of football for promising young players. At first Giuliano thought the offer of a trial for the world-famous Manchester club was a joke. It wasn't – only months later, he played his first match at United's home ground, Old Trafford. He still remembers the mixture of excitement and terror he felt.

Unfortunately, he didn't get on well with the manager, and was soon playing in the reserve team. It was in a reserve match two years later that his knee was badly damaged. Soon, at the age of 24, his career was finished. For seven years after that, he couldn't even watch football. He now works for his family's business back in Cambridge, moving furniture, and says that he now wishes he hadn't been so good at football when he was young.

1 Find words or phrases in the text that have these meanings.

- 1 very surprising (paragraph 1) _____
- 2 made very angry (paragraph 2) _____
- 3 sad stories (paragraph 3) _____
- 4 not professional (paragraph 3) _____
- 5 having future possibilities (paragraph 3) _____
- 6 test (paragraph 3) _____
- 7 great fear (paragraph 3) _____
- 8 have a good relationship (paragraph 4) _____
- 9 second choice (paragraph 4) _____

2 Use the words and phrases in Part 1 to complete the sentences below.

- 1 This plan isn't perfect yet, but it's a very _____ start.
- 2 The idea of speaking in front of hundreds of people fills me with _____.
- 3 That player is really _____. I can't believe how good he is.
- 4 We _____ quite well, but we're not really close friends.
- 5 They agreed to employ him for a _____ period to see if he was suitable.
- 6 What happened was quite sad, but it wasn't really a _____.
- 7 He may only be an _____ player now, but he has a bright future.
- 8 It's a good idea to have a _____ plan in case the first one doesn't work.
- 9 I was _____ by the rude comments in his article.

3 Answer the questions.

- 1 What nationality is Gareth Bale?

- 2 What is a common reason why young players stop playing?

- 3 What did Giuliano Maiorana think when he was first asked to play for Manchester United?

- 4 How did he feel the first time he played for Manchester United?

- 5 How does he feel now when he looks back on his football career?

- A He is sorry that he was ever successful.
- B He is happier now, working for his family.
- C He feels proud of what he achieved.

- 6 Does the writer feel angry about football stars' salaries?

- A He is a little bit angry that they are paid so much.
- B He realises that being a professional footballer is not an easy life.
- C He thinks other professions should be paid as much.

1 Discuss the question in pairs or small groups.

Which of these sports are included in the Olympic Games?

synchronised swimming speed walking

baseball

golf

rugby

2 Read the text quickly to find the answers to the question in Activity 1.

There are limits to how many sports can be included in the Olympic Games. In the 2012 Summer Games, there were 26, and the International Olympic Committee (IOC) have added two more for 2016 (golf and rugby sevens). There are various criteria that the IOC bases its decisions on, but the most important is probably international popularity. Sports tend to get included if they have a tradition and are played and watched by enough people in enough countries.

This leads to some interesting questions. Why, for example, was baseball included from 1984, but then dropped for 2012? Although some think it is only popular in the USA, it actually has a large following in South America and Asia too. The main reason for leaving it out, according to some, is a combination of geography and politics: there is little interest in the sport in Europe, and European members are in a majority on the IOC.

Of the other sports not (yet) included, one that stands out is squash. It has a long tradition and is played all over the world. It's also more obviously a real sport than some other Olympic 'sports'. In fact, it's more mysterious why certain sports are included. Take speed walking, for example, a long-standing Olympic regular. The rules say that the athletes have to have both feet in contact with the ground at all times, and must keep their legs straight. The result, to me at least, looks very silly.

More importantly, it breaks one of my two personal rules for judging serious sports because it puts artificial limits on what can be done. This is why I can't take any sport seriously if it involves doing something in water that is more naturally done out of water. My other rule is that the scoring has to be objective and measurable, not a matter of opinion. And of course both of these criteria would rule out everyone's favourite example of an Olympic non-sport: synchronised swimming.

3 Replace the underlined parts of the sentences with words from the text.

(The sentences are in the same order as the words in the text.)

- 1 What are the reasons or qualifications for being accepted on the course? _____
- 2 When he read the team list, he saw that he had been left out. _____
- 3 It's an unusual mixture of flavours, but it tastes good. _____
- 4 I can't choose between them. There's no way of deciding which is acceptable. _____
- 5 We need to look at the facts and reach a decision that is not based on personal opinions. _____
- 6 He's not a clear choice, but I wouldn't say it's impossible to include the young player. _____

4 Read the text again and choose the best title for each paragraph.

(There is one title that you don't need.)

- | | |
|--|-----------------|
| A Two examples of strange decisions | paragraph _____ |
| B What makes an Olympic sport? | paragraph _____ |
| C How the IOC works | paragraph _____ |
| D My own criteria | paragraph _____ |
| E A change of mind | paragraph _____ |

5 Decide if the statements are TRUE or FALSE according to the text.

- 1 Golf was not included in the 2012 Olympic Games.
TRUE FALSE
- 2 Baseball is popular in some European countries.
TRUE FALSE
- 3 The writer suggests speed walking should not be included in the Olympics.
TRUE FALSE
- 4 The writer gives clear reasons why some activities are not serious sports.
TRUE FALSE

6 What do the pronouns highlighted in the text refer to?

- 1 they (line 4) _____
- 2 it (line 7) _____
- 3 It (line 11) _____
- 4 it (line 16) _____

7 Discuss the questions in pairs or small groups.

- 1 Do you agree with the writer's reasons in the last paragraph for taking a sport seriously?
Why? / Why not?
- 2 Can you think of other examples of sports that are not really serious?
- 3 What other sports should or shouldn't be included in the Olympic Games?

1 Look at the examples. Then complete the grammar rules.

Examples

The manager told me not to try and reach impossible balls, but I didn't listen and got injured. I wish I'd listened to his advice.

We lost the match because we were overconfident.

I wish we hadn't been so confident.

The player was very expensive, but he's only scored one goal in twenty matches.

They regret paying so much for him.

He didn't work very hard at school and failed his exams.

He regrets not working harder.

Complete the grammar rules

- 1 To talk about things we did wrong in the past, we can use the verb wish + the _____ tense.
- 2 We can use the verb regret + the _____ form to express the same idea.
- 3 To make negative sentences with wish and regret, we add the word not _____ the second verb.

2 Match what the people say 1–6 with the responses a–f.

- | | |
|---|---|
| 1 I thought it was the right thing to do at the time. | a I know. I wish we'd brought our coats. |
| 2 I wish you hadn't told him what I said. | b Don't worry. I'm sure it'll be worth it in the end. |
| 3 It's colder than I expected. | c Not if he makes a lot of money as a football star. |
| 4 I think he'll regret not going to university. | d Oh dear. I wish we'd checked before we came. |
| 5 I wish I hadn't spent so much time on this work. | e Why? I didn't know it was a secret. |
| 6 The post office is closed. We've walked all this way for nothing. | f Maybe, but you regret doing it now, don't you? |

3 Look at the situations below. Then write a sentence for each, using wish or regret.

Examples: He had a chance to pass the ball, but didn't do it.

He wishes he'd passed / He regrets not passing the ball when he had the chance.

- 1 He didn't listen to his father's advice.
He wishes _____.
- 2 I ate a lot of food before going to bed.
I regret _____ so much _____.
- 3 I was very lazy when I was younger.
I wish _____.
- 4 They didn't buy a new defender last season.
They regret _____.
- 5 She bought a lot of expensive clothes.
She wishes _____.

4 Look at the examples. Then answer the questions.

Examples

I think football players are overpaid.

A nurse's work is hard and useful, but their salaries are low. I think they're underpaid.

- 1 What meaning does the prefix over add to the word paid in the first sentence?
A above B too much C very well
- 2 What meaning does under add as a prefix in the second sentence?
A badly B below C not enough

5 Complete the sentences using the words in the box to make other words beginning with over.

charge work confident rated cook

- 1 Don't buy tickets from strangers outside the stadium. They often _____ you.
- 2 Don't be _____. You never know when something might go wrong.
- 3 I don't think they're as good as people say. They're _____.
- 4 If you _____ the meat, it will be hard to eat.
- 5 When people _____, they may get very tired.

6 Now write new sentences with the same words, but this time using under to give the opposite meanings.

Example: He's angry because he thinks he's underpaid for the work he does.

1 Look at the example. Then complete the grammar rule.

Example

The referee made two mistakes: he should have sent the City captain off in the first half, but he shouldn't have sent the United defender off in the second half.

Complete the grammar rule

To criticise someone's (or your own) past actions or decisions, we use should (not) + the infinitive form of the verb _____ + the _____ of the main verb.

2 Complete the sentences using should / shouldn't have + the past participle of the verbs in brackets.

- 1 I knew he'd forget about the meeting. I _____ him. (remind)
- 2 I _____ so long. Now I've missed the last bus. (stay)
- 3 You _____ me for the money instead of borrowing it from the bank. (ask)
- 4 I know she was angry, but she still _____ at me. (shout)
- 5 Look at all this traffic. I knew we _____ this way. (come)
- 6 It's getting dark. We _____ half an hour ago. (leave)

3 Read about Mark's football career. Then write sentences about what he should or shouldn't have done. Read aloud some of your sentences.

Looking back on his career, Mark can see he made a lot of mistakes. He was good at sport, especially basketball, but he chose to play football because he thought he could make more money. 'Basically,' he says, 'I was greedy, and I didn't listen to other people's advice.' When he was at school, he spent a lot of time playing sport instead of studying. He left school early to try and become a professional footballer, and didn't go to university. He played for a small team in his home town and was happy there, but left to join a bigger club in the city. It wasn't a successful move, though. 'I was overconfident and didn't try hard enough to get on with the manager and the other players, so I was never popular.' Then, in a training match, he jumped to reach a high ball. 'It was too high really,' he explains, 'a long way over my head. I landed badly and broke my shoulder.' He never recovered, and hasn't played professional football since that day.

Example: He should have chosen basketball.

Pronunciation reminder

When we say should have and shouldn't have, the word should has a strong stress. All the words in the phrase are joined together, and have is pronounced like the e in 'broken', not like the a in 'man'.

4 Discuss the questions in pairs or small groups.

- 1 Are there any times in your life when you made the wrong decision? Tell your partners using I wish I had / hadn't ... and I regret + -ing.
- 2 What should you have done instead?

I regret buying this mobile phone because it doesn't work very well.

I should've done more research before I bought it.

I wish I'd paid more attention in class when I was younger.

1 Match the words and phrases about football with their meanings.

WORDS / PHRASES	MEANINGS
1 referee	a final score

5 striker	e goal that makes the scores level
6 challenge	f attempt to score a goal
7 show the red card	g person who controls the game
8 equaliser	h try to stop the other team from scoring

2 Listen to the conversation. Then answer the questions.

- Who was the match between? _____
- What was the final score? _____

3 Read a newspaper report of the same match. Then listen to the conversation again. Find one opinion that is different from the woman's.

THE DAILY NEWS
Wednesday 27 Feb 20—

1 Well, there were several talking points in this exciting match, but unfortunately they involve decisions made by the referee. He had several decisions to make that probably had an effect on the result, and I'm sorry to say I don't believe he got all of them right.

2 City took the lead after only five minutes, and they looked comfortable defending it. Towards the end of the first half, though, their captain Morgan was lucky to stay on the pitch after a challenge on the United striker Mumford. It could easily have caused a serious injury, but luckily Mumford was able to continue after treatment. The referee awarded a free kick, but in my opinion, he should have sent Morgan off.

3 In the second half, it was in fact a United player who was sent off. The challenge by the French defender Chinon didn't look as bad as Morgan's earlier one, but the referee showed him the red card. The game seemed to be City's to win. But playing the rest of the match with only ten men seemed to make United play harder, and finally Mumford himself managed to get a late equaliser. So maybe that was some kind of justice.

4 In fact, they would surely have won if their very expensive star player Romero hadn't missed a goal in the last minute. He's now scored only twice since joining the club nearly six months ago. Are United starting to regret paying so much for him?

Reading

1 Read the text about leadership. Five sentences are missing from the text. Show which gap they should go in by writing the correct letters (A–E).

- A Of course there are personal qualities that are needed.

B One thing, though, is true in all fields, at any level.

C There’s a difference between leading and managing.
- D This is not the same as being popular.

E But the two fields have many similarities.

Until recently, business experts looking for examples of leadership tended to focus on great army leaders or politicians of the past; the comparison between business and sport was often missed. (1) ____ After all, if you’re competing in markets, what better place is there to look for leadership qualities than in professional sport, which is all about competition?

5 In both business and in sport, the simple answer to the question of what makes a great leader is: success. How to achieve it is rather less simple. (2) ____ You have to be confident, determined and so on. But there isn’t one type of person who fits every situation and these personal qualities are not enough in themselves.

(3) ____ Leadership is about establishing a direction for the group to follow. Management is more about keeping them going in that direction. Leadership without management results in rushing towards new 10 goals without worrying about how you reach them. In contrast, management without leadership means that everything tends to stay as it is. You need to change between the two according to the situation.

(4) ____ What great leaders do is express their personal qualities through others. They do this through teamwork, understanding and communication, and the more you develop these skills, the more successful you will be. It’s also true that, despite what people say about ‘born leaders’, these skills can be learnt.

15 Good leaders have to express what the team or organisation wants. (5) ____ Some team members will always be unhappy if a new manager turns everything around and changes systems that everyone is used to. But if it’s clear to everyone that the success of the team is the final aim, they will put their worries to one side, and when success comes they will disappear.

2 Decide whether the statements are TRUE or FALSE.

Different places, different ways

1 Read the definition. Then discuss the question below in pairs or small groups.

What do you think are the main things that go together to make the culture of Palestinians?

culture (noun): the beliefs, habits, and ways of life shared by a particular group of people

2 Read the text. Then complete the tasks on page 113.

MODERN LIVING

Clinging to culture

► Almost everything in New York was different. We were used to living in an area where everyone knew everyone else's business, but here no one seemed to take any notice even of their neighbours. Instead of having a common culture, the people around us dressed in different styles, ate different kinds of food, even spoke different languages. It was a complete puzzle to me how they could be so various yet still call themselves Americans.

I was born in 1942, so I must have been about six or seven when the 1948 catastrophe (Nakba) happened. As a result, thousands of Palestinian families, including mine, were forced to leave Palestine. We spent a short time in Jordan before we children were taken to America by our aunt and uncle. Being so young, I saw our new life mostly as an adventure, even though I missed my friends and our old home. My parents had important work to do, but they had promised to join us as soon as possible. My older brother went through a period of anger, saying he hated everything about America. My uncle had his job at the newspaper and was quite fluent in English, so he managed fairly well. My aunt, though, never got used to life in America.

I now realise that this was mostly a choice she made herself. She refused to learn any English, so she found herself stuck in the house most of the time, only going out to buy 'food like we had at home', for which she would walk miles rather than use the stores in the neighbourhood. She also refused to make any changes to the tiny apartment we rented, apart from spending hours keeping it clean. This meant that it was very hot in the summer and freezing in winter. I'm sure we could have afforded a fridge, but she wouldn't have one, preferring to keep things cool in the traditional way.

At the time, I remember feeling annoyed with her stubborn attitude, but now, looking back, I know I should have realised what it was: a sign of her deep feeling of loss. In one way, I now understand, she was clinging to the way of life that had been taken from her. Mainly, though, her refusal to become accustomed to living in America was an expression of her conviction that our situation was only temporary. 'Don't get used to all this,' she often told us, 'because it won't last. We'll be going home soon.'

The writer _____

Her brother _____

Her uncle _____

5 Why did her aunt refuse to learn English?

6 What did the writer think about her aunt's attitude at the time?

7 How have the writer's feelings now changed?

3 Discuss the questions in pairs or small groups.

- 1 What are the positive and negative points of living in another country?

- 2 Do you think children find it easier or more difficult to get used to new situations than adults? Why?

I think I'd find it quite exciting to live in another country, but of course there are things that I'd miss.

Most children seem to get used to changes quite quickly.

1 Look at the pictures and discuss the questions below in pairs or small groups.

- 1 What cultures do the pictures make you think of?
- 2 What things (e.g. clothes, food) would you choose to show the following?
 - ▶ American culture
 - ▶ African culture
 - ▶ Palestinian or Arabic culture

2 Read the text. Then choose the best title. Circle A, B or C.

- A The advantages and disadvantages of living abroad
- B There's no place like home
- C Culture, language and identity

I enjoyed reading the article 'Clinging to culture' and I'd like to add a few points of my own. It's often been observed that expatriates are more likely to show the outward signs of their culture than their fellow countrymen who stay at home. Think of Scotsmen in New Zealand who wear kilts, or English people in Spain who insist on drinking tea with milk and eating fish and chips, or 'Irish-Americans' who often seem 5 more Irish than the Irish.

As a Welshman living in South America, I can understand why this happens. It's not that these people spend their time looking forward to 'going home': they're usually committed to living in the place they've chosen. They don't, for example, object to paying local taxes. They just have a need to hold on to what they see as an important part of their identities.

- 10 The same kind of need, I believe, happens with language. When I lived in the south of England, one of my neighbours was an old lady who had moved there from a northern town when she was quite young. Despite living in the south for over fifty years, her accent remained strongly northern. The reason, I think, is clear: being 'a northerner' was, unconsciously, an essential part of who she was.

- Language teachers will tell you that learners often find pronunciation the hardest part of a foreign
- 15 language, and I'm sure there's a connection. If, say, Italian learners of English start speaking with a 'correct' accent, they feel they are becoming more English, and therefore less Italian. Unless you actually want to change your identity, it's hard to let go. Just as an example, listen to French people who speak almost perfect English. However good they are, it's usually impossible to mistake them for anything other than French. The accent, it seems, is always the last thing to disappear.

3 Match the words and phrases from the text with their meanings.

WORDS AND PHRASES	MEANINGS
1 expatriates	a way of speaking
2 fellow countrymen	b people who live permanently in another country
3 committed	c think or say something is wrong
4 object	d very necessary
5 unconsciously	e those who come from the same country
6 essential	f without thinking about it
7 accent	g completely sure

4 Use the words and phrases in Activity 3 to complete the sentences below.

- Others might _____ that it's too expensive, but I think it's worth the money.
- He never stops trying because he's fully _____ to the career he's chosen.
- Most _____ at least try to learn the language of their new home.
- If you want to study science, it's _____ to have a good knowledge of maths.
- When I'm on holiday, I don't want to spend all the time with my _____.
- I guessed from your _____ that you are from Australia.
- I've done this journey so many times that I can find the way _____.

5 Choose the best way for the sentences to continue. Circle A, B or C.

- The text is probably
A a letter to an academic journal. B an article in a magazine. C a letter to a colleague.
- The writer says that the behaviour of many expatriates is A hard to explain. B rather surprising. C quite well known.
- The writer's neighbour
A made a decision to speak in a certain way. C had difficulty in pronouncing some words.
B had lived in the north for a long time.
- The writer believes that
A no one can ever speak a second language perfectly.
B it is natural for language learners to keep their foreign accent.
C English is especially hard to pronounce for French people.

6 Work in pairs. Discuss which opinion below you agree with most.

If you're learning a language, you should try to pronounce it as correctly as possible.

Even if it was possible, I wouldn't want to speak English like a native speaker.

 Pronunciation reminder

Some words, like object, change their stress depending on whether they are used as verbs or nouns. For example:

They don't object to paying taxes. (v)

This word is the object of the sentence. (n)

Other words like this include record, increase / decrease, import / export and permit.

1 Look at the examples. Then answer the questions below.

Examples

A He wanted to go home.

She refused to learn any English.

Their parents promised to join them as soon as possible.

B English people are accustomed to drinking tea with milk.

They don't object to paying local taxes.

They're not looking forward to going home.

- 1 Which verb form is used in the examples in column A? _____
- 2 What kind of word is to in the examples in column B? _____
- 3 What verb form is used after to in the column B examples? _____

2 Complete the sentences with the correct form of the verbs in brackets: infinitive or -ing form.

- 1 The manager decided to _____ spending. (increase)
- 2 Don't worry, I'm quite accustomed to _____. (wait)
- 3 We've all agreed to _____ a party next week. (have)
- 4 I object to _____ sorry for something I didn't do. (say)
- 5 We are committed to _____ this idea a reality. (make)
- 6 People here don't seem to _____ about their neighbours. (know)

3 Look at the examples. Then answer the questions below.

Examples

A They used to live in a small village.

B We were/got used to living in an area where everyone knew everyone else's business.

In which sentence is

- 1 used to a verb to talk about the past? _____
- 2 used an adjective followed by the preposition to, with the same meaning as accustomed to? _____

4 Complete the sentences with used + to + the correct form of the verbs in brackets.

- 1 I think I've finally got _____ this kind of food. (eat)
- 2 I _____ like a stranger when I first lived here. (feel)
- 3 Because he works at night, he's _____ during the day. (sleep)
- 4 She _____ watching films, but now she prefers reading books. (enjoy)

5 Complete the sentences with the prepositions in the box.

about for of from with on

- 1 The customer insisted _____ speaking to the manager.
- 2 They accused me _____ not telling the truth.
- 3 All his parents want to do is prevent him _____ getting hurt.

- 4 She had to be satisfied _____ getting the second prize.
- 5 Who is responsible _____ causing all this mess?
- 6 She's very serious _____ wanting to be a doctor.

6 Look at the examples. Then complete the grammar rule by adding the same word in both spaces.

Examples

Apart from being a bit cold, I quite like this place.

Despite living in the south for over fifty years, her accent remained strongly northern.

Complete the grammar rule

Certain linking words or phrases that contain a (1) _____ (e.g. from) or act like (2) _____s are followed by the -ing form of the verb.

7 Complete the sentences with the -ing form of the verbs in the box.

have to go have look after save work

- 1 He is hard to understand because he speaks very quietly, as well as _____ a strong accent.
- 2 Despite _____ money for six months, I still can't afford to buy it.
- 3 He's thinking of getting a job instead of _____ to university.
- 4 My mother is becoming ill as a result of _____ such long hours.
- 5 What else don't you like about the job apart from _____ work at weekends?
- 6 In addition to _____ the family, she has a part-time job.

1 Look at the examples. Then answer the questions below.

Examples

A A and C are both wrong so the answer must be B.

I was born in 1942, so I must have been about six or seven at the time.

B You should realise how lucky you are.

I should have realised what it was.

C The volcano is still active, so it could explode at any time.

I'm sure we could have afforded a fridge then.

- 1 What time do all the underlined verbs on the left refer to?
A the past? B the present?
- 2 What time do all the underlined verbs on the right refer to?
A the past? B the present?
- 3 Which is the correct construction for 'past modals'?
A modal verb + infinitive of have + past participle B modal verb + present tense of have + past tense

4 Which pairs of sentences have the following meanings?

- 1 This is my advice.
It was important to do, but I didn't do it.
- 2 It is a possibility.
It was possible, but it didn't happen.
- 3 It's the only logical conclusion left.
This is a logical conclusion about the past.

2 Match the beginnings of the sentences with the correct endings.

A (Present modals)

- | | |
|---|---------------------------------|
| 1 He's eating it all, so | a you should always take water. |
| 2 You should always ask questions | b by entering this competition. |
| 3 When you go walking in the mountains, | c it must be very tasty. |
| 4 We could win a lot of money | d when you don't understand. |

B (Past modals)

- | | |
|---|---|
| 1 You shouldn't have blamed him because | a he'd been here earlier. |
| 2 He could have helped if | b it could have been an electrical fault. |
| 3 It's not in my bag, so | c it wasn't his fault. |
| 4 We don't know what caused the fire, but | d I must have taken it out. |

3 Circle the correct form (present or past).

- 1 It is getting late and you look very busy. You must be / must have been exhausted.
- 2 We're not sure yet, but this could be / could have been the solution to our problem.
- 3 That car nearly hit you. You should look / should have looked before crossing.
- 4 She could win / could have won the race, but she hurt her leg.
- 5 He must be / must have been out because he isn't answering the phone.
- 6 The meeting is about to start. Everybody should turn off / should have turned off their mobile phones.

4 Complete the sentences with the past form of the modals in the box + the verbs in brackets.

must (x2) could should (x2)

- 1 He realises now that he _____ the offer of a job. (accept)
- 2 I can't find my keys. I _____ them at home. (leave)
- 3 There was no need to work late. We _____ the job this morning. (finish)
- 4 Everyone is getting worried. Hassan _____ an hour earlier. (arrive)
- 5 He is smiling. So he _____ his exams. (pass)

5 Discuss the questions in pairs or small groups.

- 1 Is there anything you didn't do or didn't know in the past that you now realise was wrong or silly?
I should have known/realised that ...
- 2 How old were you when you spoke your first word? What was it?
I'm not sure but I must have been ... It might have been ...
- 3 Is there anything in your past that you had the chance to do but didn't?
When I was ..., I could have ... but I ... instead.

1 Discuss the questions in pairs or small groups.

- 1 What is the earliest thing you remember in your life?
- 2 How can you be sure that you really remember it?
Could it be that someone told you later and you only think you remember?

I remember falling off a chair and hurting my head. I must have been about three.

This is such a strange little detail that I'm sure I'm the only one who remembers it.

2 Listen to the story of someone's first day at school and answer the questions.

- 1 How did Laurie Lee get to the school on his first morning?

- 2 What didn't he understand during the day?

- 3 How does he feel when he gets home?

- 4 He refuses to go again. Why does the speaker find this so believable?

- 5 What did the teacher mean by 'sit over there for the present'?

- 6 What did the young Laurie Lee think the teacher meant?

3 Listen again and check your answers.

4 Work in pairs or small groups. Tell your partner(s) what you remember about your own first day at school.

- ▶ How did you feel?
- ▶ What happened during the day?
- ▶ Do you remember anything unusual, surprising or funny?
- ▶ Was it a happy or an unhappy experience?

I was really looking forward to going to school and I thought it was exciting.

One of the teachers shouted my name and I was frightened. I thought I'd done something wrong, but I had no idea what it could have been!

5 Write a short paragraph about your first day at school or your earliest memory.

Add details about what happened and how you felt to make the story more believable, and include one or two events that aren't actually true.

6 Work in pairs. Read your paragraphs aloud and try to guess which details are invented.

Period 6 / Writing

1 Complete the story with the linking words and phrases in the box.

during so by as well as that's why as a result but since previously either

We tend to remember experiences that were (1) _____ very good or very bad. Perhaps (2) _____ I don't remember my first holiday, but I definitely do remember my first camping holiday in a tent. (3) _____, we'd always stayed in rented houses, but for some reason my parents decided that camping would be fun.

The weather forecast was good, (4) _____ we were looking forward to playing outside in the woods. Unfortunately, though, it started raining as soon as we got to the camping place, and it hardly stopped for the whole week we were there.

(5) _____ the day, we had to find dry places to pass the time, and usually had to pay to go in.

(6) _____, my parents spent more money than they should have done, which annoyed them. What annoyed me was having to share a tent with my brother, who turned out to be a very noisy sleeper. If it wasn't him keeping me awake, it was the insects that found their way in. I know camping is supposed to be about getting close to nature, (7) _____ I didn't want to be that close.

(8) _____ the end of the week, we were all glad to go home. It was certainly a memorable holiday,

(9) _____ being a good lesson for the future: I've never gone on another camping holiday

(10) _____ that first time.

2 Write a similar story of a memorable holiday (or other experience) that you had. (It could be memorable for good or bad reasons.)

Use the story in Activity 1 as a model and keep the same paragraph structure.

Paragraph 1: introduction and background

Paragraph 2: the beginning of the holiday / experience

Paragraph 3: the rest of the holiday / experience

Paragraph 4: conclusion (What do you think about it now?)

In this Unit you have learnt about:

- ▶ other cultures
- ▶ verb / adjective + to + -ing structures
- ▶ verb / adjective + other preposition + -ing structures
- ▶ modal verbs with infinitives for present meanings
- ▶ 'past modal' verb forms (modal verb + have + past participle)
- ▶ linking words and phrases
- ▶ writing about personal memories

Letters for Unit 6 Period 5

Dear Sir / Madam

I would be grateful if you could send us a list of your products, including prices, as we are interested in making a purchase.

I look forward to hearing from you.

Re: electronic switches enquiry

Dear Mr Allen

Thank you for the product list you sent recently. We are interested in purchasing quite a large number of your electronic switches (item reference number 154/056).

Before placing an order, we would need to know if there is a guarantee on these parts, and how long it is. We would also require delivery within four weeks of placing the order. Could you confirm that this is possible?

We would be grateful if you could send details of methods of payment and whether the prices can be reduced for a large order.

Yours sincerely,

C. Andretti

It is common for companies to add a reference number (Ref) to their letters below the address and date, to help keep a record of communications.

It is common in business letters to show at the top what the letter is about. Re is the abbreviation that introduces this.

Grammar reference

Unit 1

Present tenses

- 1 We use the present simple tense to talk about regular or repeated actions, especially with 'frequency adverbs' like often or usually.
People often get stuck in their comfort zones.
- 2 We also use this tense for general truths that don't change, and for some verbs that describe states rather than actions, for example seem or like.
Clubs and societies are a vital part of college life.
It seems as if everyone is speaking a different language.
- 3 We use the present continuous tense to describe actions that are in progress at or around the time of speaking, or to talk about continuous change that isn't finished yet.
My brother is speaking on the phone at the moment.
Mahmoud's English is getting better quickly.
- 4 Many verbs (sometimes called 'stative' verbs) can't usually be used in a continuous tense because they describe states, not actions.
Examples include:
like, love, hate, prefer, etc., want, seem, know, believe, remember, suppose, agree, mean, realise, recognise, understand.
Many people think they can't change their lives.
Please be quiet. I'm thinking.
- 5 Some state verbs can be used in both tenses, but with a different meaning, according to whether or not the verb is an action, for example think, have and look.
He looks worried.
What are you looking at?

Present perfect (general)

- 1 We make the present perfect (simple) tense with have + the past participle of the main verb.
- 2 We make the present perfect (continuous) tense with have + the past participle of the verb be + the -ing form of the main verb.
- 3 Sentences in the present perfect tense tell us more about the present than the past. For example, the meanings of the two sentences below are more or less the same.
I've also joined two other clubs.
I'm also a member of two other clubs.

Present perfect simple or continuous?

- 1 We use the present perfect simple tense to talk about recent past experiences that are important at the time of speaking.
I've joined the Palestine Society.
- 2 We also use this tense to talk about general past experience when it doesn't matter when the experience happened (the important thing is the experience itself).
I've joined two other clubs and have participated in three events so far.
- 3 We use the present perfect continuous tense to talk about actions that began in the past and have continued up to the present.
I've been studying English for five years.
- 4 We use the same tense to focus on the (unfinished) activity itself and emphasise that the action has been in progress throughout the period.
She's under stress because she's been studying so much.

Unit 2

Infinitives and -ing forms

- 1 We use the infinitive form (with to) after certain verbs like advise, want, ask and tell.
Experts advise us to break this habit.
- 2 When an object is needed, it goes between the verb and the infinitive.
Experts advise us to break this habit.
- 3 We also use the infinitive form to talk about purpose (the reason why you do something).
You need good exam results to go to university.
- 4 We use the -ing form after certain verbs like enjoy and like.
Not many students enjoy revising for exams.
- 5 We always use the -ing form after prepositions like in and by.
He likes playing football, but he's not interested in watching it on TV.
- 6 Some verbs change their meaning when they are followed by the infinitive or -ing forms.
He was getting tired, so he stopped working.
(simply stopping the action you are doing)
We were lost, so we stopped to ask the way.
(stopping one action in order to do another)
Remember to eat regularly and healthily.
(actions we have to do or should do)
I remember feeling stressed when I was doing school exams.
(remembering actions / situations that happened in the past)

Unit 3

Past tenses

- 1 We can use past tenses together, especially in stories, to talk about how actions are related.
Last night, I arrived at the hotel quite late and went straight to bed.
 (past simple + past simple: two completed actions in the past)
I was talking to an old school friend when she mentioned another person called Jan.
 (past continuous + past simple: one action happened while another action was in progress)
Some guests had left when Samir arrived.
 (past perfect + past simple: one action was completed before another action happened)
- 2 In more complicated sentences, we can use all three past tenses. The past simple tense does the main job of telling the story, and the other two give background information.

One day I noticed that the bananas I had bought about a week before were going brown.
I was talking to an old school friend that I d kept in touch with when she mentioned another person.

Unit 4

Modal verbs of probability

- 1 We use the modal verbs might, may and could to say that something is possible.
Young Palestinians are starting small technology companies that could / might / may help the Palestinian economy.
We can't make any plans yet because he might / may not come.
- 2 We use will / won't as a modal verb when we are certain about a future event.
The one thing we can predict is that the figures will continue to rise in future.
We won't be in time now. It's too late.
- 3 When we make negative statements about possibility, we can't use couldn't. This is because couldn't has another meaning (wasn't able to).
- 4 We can make could, might or may more certain by adding the word well.
He has all the right qualifications, so he could / might / may well get the job.

- 5 We make will less certain by adding the word probably.
I'm not sure yet but I'll probably catch the 9.30 train.

Future statements using will

We can use will in different ways to talk about the future.

- Researchers predict that the figures will continue to rise in future.* (confidently predicting or expecting that something is certain)
The next flight to arrive will be the 732 from London. (giving new information to the public / announcing)
There's nothing on TV so I think I'll go to bed. (talking about something you've just decided)
Don't worry. I'll help you solve the problem. (making an offer)

Other ways of talking about the future

- 1 We use the present continuous tense to talk about things that are definitely arranged.
I'm having a party next Saturday.
- 2 We use going to (do) when we have some evidence to make us certain about the future, or to talk about things that we intend or have decided to do (but are not necessarily completely arranged).
That wall doesn't look safe. It's going to fall over one day.
He says he's going to do his homework.

Unit 5

Direct and indirect questions

- 1 In direct questions, the subject comes after the verb.
- 2 Questions beginning with a question word like when or why ask for information.
What subjects are you studying?
- 3 Questions without a question word ask for a yes or no answer.
Have you enjoyed working for a charity?
- 4 When we report questions, the subject comes before the verb, as in normal sentences.
I asked him what subject she was studying.
- 5 Changes like moving tenses into the past and changing pronouns are the same as in normal reported speech.
- 6 When reporting questions without question words, we use either if or whether.
They asked him if / whether he had enjoyed working for a charity.

- 7 We don't use question marks with reported questions.

Negative questions

We can use negative questions to show doubt, anger or surprise.

Isn't it a long way to walk? (I'm not sure I can manage that.)

Didn't you ask for his phone number? (If not, how can we call him back?)

Haven't you finished yet? (You've been doing it a long time.)

Question tags

- 1 When the main sentence is positive, the tag is usually negative; when the main sentence is negative, the tag is usually positive.
It's quite cold today, isn't it?
You've made a mistake, haven't you?
- 2 When the main verb is be, an auxiliary verb (e.g. have) or a modal verb (e.g. should), we repeat this in the tag.
I shouldn't really do this, should I?
- 3 With all other verbs, we use the verb do / don't or did / didn't in the tag.
Nowadays, we know differently, don't we?

Unit 6

Reporting advice and orders

- 1 We use the verb tell to report orders / instructions and warn to report negative advice.
- 2 Tell, advise and warn are all followed by an object and the infinitive form of the verb (with to).
- 3 When we use the word not, we put it between the object and the infinitive.
- 4 After all three verbs, we can use that + a clause with a verb in a past tense.
- 5 After advise and warn, we can use against + the -ing form of the verb.
'We think you should spend more on marketing.'
They told / advised me to spend more on marketing.
'You shouldn't spend all your money.'
A lot of people told / advised / warned him not to spend all his money.
'Don't forget that business start-ups are really hard work.'
A friend told / advised / warned me that business start-ups were really hard work.
'Don't put all your profits into developing new ideas.'
Someone advised / warned me against putting all my profits into developing new ideas

Causative structures

- 1 We make 'causative' structures (to have / get something done) with the verbs have or get, followed by an object and a past participle.
If it's a physical product, you'll need to find a way to have it made for you.
- 2 We use the structure to talk about actions we don't do ourselves, but ask / tell / pay someone else to do for us.
Have the figures checked by someone who understands money.
He learnt a lot about how to get his products noticed.

Unit 7

Past mistakes and regrets

- 1 To talk about things we did wrong in the past, we can use the verb wish + the past perfect tense.
I wish I'd listened to the manager's advice.
I wish we hadn't been so over-confident.
- 2 We can use the verb regret + the -ing form to express the same idea.
They regret paying so much for the player.
- 3 To make negative sentences with regret, we put the word not before the -ing form.
He regrets not working harder at school.
- 4 To criticise someone's (or your own) past actions or decisions, we use should (not) + the infinitive form of the verb have + the past participle of the main verb (should / shouldn't have done).
The referee made two mistakes: he should have sent the City captain off in the first half, but he shouldn't have sent the United defender off in the second half.

Unit 8

Verbs and prepositions

- 1 Some verbs are always followed by the same preposition.
Some English people insist on drinking tea with milk.
- 2 After the preposition, we use the -ing form of the verb.
We were used to living in an area where everyone knew everyone else's business.
They don't object to paying local taxes.
They're not looking forward to going home.
- 3 Certain linking words or phrases also contain a preposition or act like prepositions. These are followed by the -ing form of the verb.
Apart from being a bit cold, I quite like this place.

Despite living in the south for over fifty years, her accent remained strongly northern.

Past forms of modal verbs

- 1 We make modal verbs refer to the past by adding have + the past participle of the main verb.
I was born in 1942, so I must have been about six or seven at the time. (This is a logical conclusion about the past)
- 2 Apart from referring to the past, the modal verbs keep their normal meanings.
I'm sure we could have afforded a fridge at the time. (It was possible but it didn't happen.)
I should have realised what it was. (It was important to do but I didn't do it.)

Applications and personal statements

Sometimes there is a section of an application form (for a job or a course) which asks you to write something about yourself. The example below shows a typical way of completing a section like this. Pay attention to the underlined tenses and verb forms.

Please explain in about 200 words your reasons for choosing this course, your experience in the field and how you expect your interest in the subject to develop.

I am applying for this course because I have been interested in the subject of the environment for many years, and I would like to work in this field as a career in the future. I have been reading books about environmental science since I was twelve years old, so I know quite a lot about the basic ideas, but I need to extend what I already know.

At the moment, I am studying biology, geography and English as my main subjects at school, and I believe these subjects will all be useful in the career I have chosen. Since I started secondary school, I have been a member of the school Environment Society, and have been President of the society for the last two years.

After finishing my final exams in June, I plan to spend a year doing this course, and I will then apply to university to study Environmental Science. My general aim is to study climate change and especially its impact on wildlife. I believe this is one of the most important problems that we face in the 21st century.

I hope my application is successful, and I am looking forward to studying at your college.

Sometimes colleges or universities ask for a separate personal statement. The following table gives advice about writing personal statements.

DO ...	DON'T ...
say why you are applying (and why for this course in particular)	make general statements (e.g. 'I have always been interested in Economics.')
explain what makes you suitable (e.g. the skills you have)	make unsupported claims (e.g. 'I am a very determined person.')
give examples of things you've done outside education (but only if they show something about you)	mention negative points or make excuses for things you haven't done say what your future aims are (if you're not sure, just say what you hope to gain from the course)	use famous quotations (they want to know what you think, not someone else)
make yourself stand out from other applicants	try to be funny (it usually doesn't work)
check your spelling and grammar (and get someone else to look at it too)	use underlining, bold type, etc. for emphasis plan your statement and do plenty of research	copy from online examples (universities have ways of checking this)
make sure you keep under the word limit (if there is one)	leave it till the last minute

Below is a sample plan for a personal statement, explaining what information to include and how to arrange it.

PERSONAL STATEMENT PLAN

Paragraph 1: Why you are applying

Give your reasons for choosing the course.
Say why the subject interests you.
Explain how your interest developed.
Mention your ambitions for the future.

Paragraph 2: What you have done

Mention subjects you are studying (connected with the course).
Describe any extra reading you've done around the subject.
Give examples of activities (in and outside school) that show your interest.
(These could include visits, talks, work experience, volunteering.)

Paragraph 3: Why you are suitable for the course

Give evidence that you are the right person.
Mention skills that you have that will help you during the course.
(These can include non-academic skills like teamwork or time management.)
Say how your studies and extra activities developed these skills.

Discussion essays

There are several types of essay titles that ask you to discuss something. The most common ones are:

- comparing (e.g. What are the main differences between x and y?)
- for and against / advantages and disadvantages
- agreeing or disagreeing (e.g. Some people think ... How far do you agree?)
- opinion (e.g. What do think about ...?)

These are quite similar, but it is important to read the question carefully and make sure you understand what you need to do. It is then useful to write a plan in which you organise your ideas into paragraphs. The example below covers the first three types of essays above.

Paragraph 1: Introduction

Background to the question (What does it mean? Why is it important?)
Statement of aims (What are you going to discuss?)

Paragraph 2: Advantages / arguments for / reasons for agreeing (examples)

Paragraph 3: Disadvantages / arguments against / reasons for disagreeing

Paragraph 4: Conclusion

Summary of arguments
Own opinion

The fourth type of essay, asking for your opinion of an idea, statement or quotation, can be a little more difficult to organise. Below is an example of a plan for a particular essay question.

Title: How are technological ways of written communication different from letters, and which purposes or situations are better for different methods?

Paragraph 1: Introduction

Letters becoming less popular / replaced by technological communication methods (examples)

Paragraph 2: general advantages of modern communication methods

Paragraph 3: advantages / disadvantages of social media, Twitter, etc. for communication

Paragraph 4: purposes/situations where letters are more suitable

Paragraph 5: Conclusion

Different types of writing suit different purposes and situations, so people will probably continue to write letters, even if less than before.

Formal letters

We write formal letters to people that we don't know or have never met, for example covering letters and letters asking for information. Below is an example of a short general enquiry/covering letter in a formal style. Note the underlined sentences and phrases, which are useful in most kinds of formal letter.

Dear Sir / Madam

I am writing to enquire about possible vacancies with your company.

I am currently looking for employment as I am due to leave school at the end of June. I have good language and IT skills, which I hope would make me suitable for various jobs.

I enclose my CV, and I would be grateful if you could keep it on file in case of any future opportunities.

If you need any further information, please contact me.

Thank you very much for your help, and I look forward to hearing from you.

Yours faithfully,

This is the normal opening when you are writing to someone for the first time and don't know their name. If you know the person is male, use Dear Sir and if you know the person is female, use Dear Madam.

The simplest and most common way to begin a formal letter is to give your reason for writing.

This is the ending that goes with Dear Sir / Madam.

Business letters

The style of business letters is mostly the same as other formal letters. It is important to keep to the main point / purpose, but remain polite (without being too personal). Below are two examples of business letters.

Dear Mr Andretti

Thank you for your enquiry. I have pleasure in enclosing a full list of our products, as requested.

If you need any other information, please contact me.

Yours sincerely,

R. Allen

Ralph Allen
General Manager
Bestelec Ltd

This is the normal opening when you know the name of the person you are writing to. If writing to a woman, use Mrs ----- for married women, Miss ----- for unmarried women or Ms ----- if you aren't sure.

This is the ending that goes with the Dear Mr/Mrs/Miss/Ms ----- opening.

Re: electronic switches enquiry

Dear Mr Allen

Thank you for the product list you sent recently. We are interested in purchasing quite a large number of your electronic switches (item reference number 154/056).

Before placing an order, we would need to know if there is a guarantee on these parts, and how long it is. We would also require delivery within four weeks of placing the order. Could you confirm that this is possible?

We would be grateful if you could send details of methods of payment and whether the prices can be reduced for a large order.

Yours sincerely,

C. Andretti

It is common for companies to add a reference number (Ref) to their letters below the address and date, to help keep a record of communications.

It is common in business letters to show at the top what the letter is about. Re is the abbreviation that introduces this.

Summaries

You may sometimes be asked to write a summary of a longer text. First, read through the text and underline or highlight the main ideas, and decide what you can take out without losing the main message. This will usually include:

- examples
- information repeated in different words
- extra comments and opinions

The example below shows examples of what you can take out from a text.

- Well, not everyone is the same of course. [Some students, for example, say they revise better while listening to music, but others find it distracts their attention.] So the first thing to do is to think about what's best for you. [Ask yourself questions like: Do I work better early in the morning or in evening? Alone or with another person? That kind of thing.]
- [So, as I say, there may not be one method that fits all students.] There are, however, certain pieces of advice that seem to work for most people. Firstly, make a timetable so that you can see how much time you need to give to each subject. [I know it may seem obvious, but it definitely works.] And of course once you've got your timetable, you have to keep to it, otherwise there's no point in having it.
- Second, try to revise in the same place all the time. [It could be your own room or the library or somewhere else.] After a short time you'll probably find that it's easier to start working because you're in your 'work space'.
- Apart from the 'where and when' questions, there's the question of the best method to use – [in other words, the 'how'. As I said, different ways work better for different people, but] one thing that always seems to give good results is summarising your notes using diagrams and highlighting the main ideas. [Use coloured pens for different things – a red pen for examples, blue for reasons, and so on.]
- Finally, don't work for too long at one time, especially on the same subject. Take short breaks from time to time to give your brain a rest. Go somewhere else and do something different. [Oh, there's one more thing I forgot to mention, but it's very important.] Make sure you get enough sleep.
- Nobody works at their best when they're tired.

Finally, read through what is left and make sure it still makes logical sense. If necessary, rewrite some sentences in a shorter way and add any linking words or phrases that you might need to make the meaning clear.
